His Honour Ralph Steinhauer, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta and Mrs. Steinhauer pose for photographer Frank Turek before an oil painting of Father Lacombe following the Historical Society banquet Saturday evening, which celebrated the 150th anniversary of Father Lacombe's birth. Mr. Steinhauer was a guest speaker.

Negotiations continue for student housing

Trustees of Protestant Separate School District 6 heard a progress report on the thorny administrative problem of accommodating students in 1977-78, in the event that the West Grandin School is not available. At the regular meeting Wednesday night, Trustee Don Munro reported to the board that the Education Committee was investigating the possibility of an arrangement with the Edmonton Public School Board, and are ironing out a tentative arrangement with School District 3 here.

Mr. Munro said there is a chance that a school in the Kensington district of Edmonton might be available, but that no definite answer from the Edmonton board would be available until that board meets and discusses the matter.

School District 3 has reported that they could have up to 10 rooms available for use by District 6, providing the latter board state by March 15th their intention to use the rooms. Dr. Cuts commented that this report was encouraging as the 23 rooms that could possibly be obtained through thesenegotiations would be valuable. Supt. Elmer Gish added that even if both these arrangements were finalized, four grade nine classes would still have to be placed at Paul Kane High School.

Chamber of Commerce week

Mayor Richard H. M. Plain has proclaimed the week of March 6 - 12 Chamber of Commerce Week in the City of St. Albert.

The Chamber, with a current membership of 98 businessmen and women is having a membership drive this week to canvass local businesses. Their aim is to increase the membership to 150.

The St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce is a very active organization, involved in many projects. A particularly ambitious project is the St. Albert Community Trade Fair to be held in the St. Albert Arena on May 13-15. The local businesses are enthusiastic and it appears that all booths will be rented before May. An all-expense trip for two to San Francisco will be the major door prize. By using volunteer labor and local entertainment the admissions will be kept down to a maximum of $1 per family.

The Chamber is also presently at work producing a full color brochure promoting St. Albert as a good place to live, to visit and to work.

A five-session business information course is being presented in both high schools later in March with the aim of educating students on various aspects of business life.

A committee has been recently formed to study proposed shopping centre facilities, both past and future, in St. Albert. The

150th Anniversary of Father Lacombe's birth marked

A look at the western territory, at the time when Father Albert Lacombe began his missionary work, was presented from two somewhat unusual vantage points to the large crowd at the annual banquet and meeting of the St. Albert Historical Society on Saturday evening at Club Mocombo. The event this year celebrated the 150th anniversary of Father Lacombe's birth at St. Sulpice, Quebec, on February 27th, 1827.

Prior to the banquet, Minister of Culture, the Hon. Horst Schmid was introduced by MLA Ernie Jamison. He told the crowd that the original log church built under Father Lacombe, and the Bishops Palace (formerly Grandin House) had been designated as historic sites by the province. He spoke of Father Lacombe's work establishing the St. Albert Mission, building a grinding mill and a bridge across the Sturgeon, of his contribution to the west as a widely travelled missionary who earned the respect of the natives, the metis whom he especially loved, and the white people. He referred also to Lacombe's love and appreciation of the beauty of the western wilderness. The minister left before the dinner for another engagement.

Reverend Gerald Hutchinson of Rundle Mission, an historian of the Methodist missionaries, particularly George and John McDougall, noted that George McDougall was already doing missionary work among the native people when Father Lacombe came west in 1849 as a newly ordained priest.

Historical Society elects new officers at banquet

Renee Laird, a well known St. Albert resident and one who has been with the organization since it was formed in 1971 was elected president of the St. Albert Historical Society at their annual meeting Saturday night. Bill Oakes is vice-president and Joan Kirsch will serve a second term as secretary. Jane McCracken is treasurer and members at large are Ruth Horn, Keith Bell and Frank Turek. Arlene Borgstede, heritage officer, is an ad hoc member of the executive.

Jim Parker, archivist for the University of Alberta, is the past president, having served in this office for three years. In his report he reviewed the year's activities including the start made on oral histories recorded from interview with longtime residents, 17 of which have been done so far. He referred also to original church of Father Lacombe and the Bishop's Palace being designated by the province as historic sites, culminating efforts of the Society for some years. Proper restoration of these historic buildings in St. Albert remains a major objective of the Society.

Treasurer's report showed a better than break-even year, with about $400 to the good.

RENEE LAIRD
PRESIDENT

The largest ever crowd attended the banquet and dance, 129 people - and it is hoped an increase in membership will reflect the growing interests of the community in the work of the historical society.

Following the meeting Ian Paterson conducted a bygones auction which saw all the items sold, including bean pots, a lamp, souvenir Father Lacombe glasses, tobacco tins, which caused quite a run at exhorbitant prices and other miscellaneous items.

During February three special puppet shows were held at the St. Albert Public Library. Margaret Donnelly, Cindy Trigg and Grant Bruner who are working on a Local Initiatives Program called "Books Alive" out of the Yellowhead Regional Library presented the programs. More than 150 boys and girls attended the after-school session and 60 pre-schoolers enjoyed the presentation during their regular story hour time. The children were charmed by the program of songs, finger-plays, stories and puppet plays of Rumpelstilskin and The Lion and the Mouse, and particularly loved meeting Rocky Raccoon and Bucky Beaver!

In recognition of Scout and Guide Week and the international aspect of the Guiding movement, the 4th Guide Company of St. Albert met in the gym at V. J. Maloney, Monday evening to enjoy the games, as well as the food, from other countries. Scotland, U.S.A., India and Canada were honoured. Each patrol gave a short presentation on their chosen country, played some of the games and enjoyed some of the food common to that country. A discussion on Guiding in other countries was also an interesting part of the evening.

and Properties Committee that architects had been interviewed for the construction of the Stage Nine project in Lacombe Park, and that one had been selected for board approval. He moved that the board approve the appointment of William Hnidan, of William Hnidan Architect ltd. The motion carried.

Under the heading of new business, Trustee Shirley McCaffery asked about the status of a playground location at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School. Don Munro answered that Mr. Throndson, the city's representative on the Joint Use Committee had been asked to make inquiries about it to city administration and city council, but that nothing had yet been heard.

Mrs. McCaffery then presented a letter from the administration of Sir Alexander Mackenzie School to parents of students stating that the city had purchased playground equipment for the school. Mrs. McCaffery stated that while the purchase is greatly appreciated, the board should have some knowledge of the city's plans to place equipment on school property.

Mr. Munro explained that the city regarded such equipment as similar to back-stops, about which they made no enquiries before placing them on school property.

A representative of the school's administration was present at the board meeting and said that the school itself had been contacted regarding the equipment by the playground subcommittee, which was set up in co-operation with the city Parks and Recreation department.

Mrs. McCaffery stated she objected to "the town once again telling us what is to be built on our land."

Mr. Munro suggested that as a Policy Committee member he would contact Mr. Throndson to ask about the matter and report back to the board.

committee hopes to bring some interesting guest speakers to the general meetings.

The social event of the Chamber year is the annual banquet and Citizen of the Year presentation. Residents submit names of candidates for Citizen of the Year and the winner is announced at the banquet held in January. This year's winner was Mrs. Hettie Blades who is a very active volunteer with senior citizens and Meals-on-Wheels.

Mayor Richard Plain will highlight Chamber of Commerce Week by being guest speaker at the next general meeting, March 9, 12 noon, at the St. Albert Inn.

Babysitting service growing up

In just a few weeks the babysitting service has grown from an idea to a fully-pledged community program. Anyone looking for a babysitter in St. Albert should have no problems - thanks to a group of enthusiastic volunteers.

There are co-ordinators in each area (listed below) and each has a list of babysitters to whom they can refer anyone wanting the service during the day, evenings or in a few cases even overnight.

The co-ordinators have been meeting regularly - working out the ground rules. They point out that their role is referral only and they are not responsible for either the conduct of the babysitters or the financial arrangements; these should be worked out between the "client" and the sitter.

So next time you need a babysitter, why not give one of the co-ordinators in your area a call. If she can't accommodate you, she may be able to refer you to another co-ordinator who can.

Following are districts, names of the co-ordinators and their telephone numbers:

Mission - Mrs. Jurgens, 458-0408.

Mission - Mrs. Temple, 458-1469.

Lacombe - Mrs. Giger, 458-2693.

Partition chromatography is the means by which the components of a gas or liquid can be separated, identified and measured through different rates of absorption by another substance. This technique was discovered by Professors A. J. P. Martin born in London in 1910, and R. L. M. Synge born in Liverpool in 1914, and earned them the Nobel Prize in 1952. The design of the 11p stamp shows the kind of pattern that partition chromatography produces when used on different paper, and also the graph showing the different substances after separation in a mixture by the chromatography process.

Lieutenant Governor opens Legislature in native dress

On Feburary 24, 1977, Lieutenant Governor Ralph G. Steinhauer opened the third session of the 18th Alberta Legislature, dressed in full Indian regalia. "I felt so happy and proud to represent the Indian people in that fashion" said the Lt. Governor of his 50-minute speech delivered to a full assembly and a crowded visitors gallery.

"It thrilled the native people and I was pleased with the attitude of the general public -- the feeling of general acceptance by non-native people for an event like the signing of Treaties Six and Seven was a thrill to me."

Mr. Steinhauer, Canada's first Lieutenant Governor of Indian descent, is a member and past Chief of the Saddle Lake Band. His recent presentation was in honor of his people and all Albertans and in commemoration of Treaty number Six, signed in 1876, and number Seven in 1877.

Services for mentally handicapped to be discussed

Everyone interested in the subject is invited to attend. Coffee will be served and there will be lots of time for discussion and the exchange of ideas. If interested but unable to attend please phone the Community Services Department at 459-6601, extension 79.

Save your '76 phone book

The Alberta Heart Foundation is planning to collect as many of the 500,000 Edmonton and area telephone books as possible. They will be sold for recycling and dollars earned will be added to the Heart Fund 1977.

If every telephone book could be collected, there would be $15,000 added to the fund. Any office tower or high-rise apartment who wishes to contribute, can call Gay Broderick at 464-3131 to arrange for a pick-up.

The obsolete telephone books will be recycled into insulation, drywall and asphalt shingles right here in Edmonton.

The Depot in St. Albert will be at Grandin Shoppers Park. "Blitz Day" is Wednesday, March 9th.

into focus the political forces at work in the 1840's and '50's, and their implications for missionaries in the west. He told how George Simpson, north American governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, was reluctant to have missionaries enter the territories covered by the fur traders. Factor John Rowland could see no advantage of missionaries coming either. They heralded settlements and were considered a threat to the thriving fur trade, dependent on Indians and Metis. But although consent of the company was required, it was sometimes circumvented - as when Governor Simpson was out of the country - and other times grudgingly granted for missionaries to come.

Mr. Hutchinson also pointed out that in the mid-19th century rivalry between the French and English speaking people of Canada was already a strong political force. As the settlement of the west was foreseen, both wanted to be in the stronger position. The danger of a take-over by the Americans, pressing west in great numbers was also a threat. And there was also rivalry between the Anglican and Methodist and Roman Catholic priests and missionaries as they sought converts among the Indian and Metis population.

The work of the missionaries carried on under extremely adverse conditions, and, as Mr. Hutchinson showed in his most interesting talk, there were more problems involved in that work than ministering to the flock.

Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhauer opened his talk by saying that his people did not have written records to rely upon, but never the less factual records were passed on from generation to generation by the wise men of the native tribes and conferacies.

Our people, he said, found the differences in the missionaries hard to understand. The missionaries all believed in the Great Spirit, but they had different ways of following him. Mr. Steinhauer pointed out that 1977 was also an historic one for native people under treaties with the Great White Mother. He said his people were surprised at the coming of the white men from across the "great waters." Although they knew of these great waters they believed that at their far side one would fall off.

Mr. Steinhauer told a story of how word reached two people at the same time of the birth of an Indian boy at Rocky Mountain House. "My great grandfather, Henry Bird and Father Lacombe. Henry Bird, however, had great renown as a trainer and handler of dogs. So it was that he reached Rocky Mountain House first, performed his baptism and on his way back made camp at Sylvan Lake. Father Lacombe and his party appeared and were welcomed to the campfire and a meal of bannock and meat. The next morning they went on to Rocky Mountain House and the baby was baptized again.

Both Father Lacombe and Rev. McDougall were well respected by the Indian people, Mr. Steinhauer said and when it came time to sign the treaties the wise chiefs of the Blackfoot decided to call in both men, because they knew them both for honest men. The Indian people knew that many white people would come to their lands, and they trusted those two men. So it came about that the treaties were signed and a great slaughter of white people was prevented, because two famous missionaries were honest.

Mayor Plain brought greetings from the city, and Father Joseph Regnier OMI, who had asked the blessing at the banquet, also replied to the toast in a moving tribute to the great man, spoken in French and in English.

Master of ceremonies, Jim Parker pointed out the significance of the logo of the St. Albert Historical Society, which appeared on the cover of the handsome program for this special evening. The logo depicts feathers, the cross and a plough are in the form of a circle.

At the close of the program, Mr. Parker presented framed pictures of the early St. Albert Mission to His Honour Ralph Steinhauer and the Reverend Gerald Hutchinson. Flowers were presented to Mrs. Steinhauer. The president's expression of thanks to the distinguished speakers was reinforced with a burst of applause from the enthusiastic audience.

The Reverend Gerald M. Hutchinson of Rundle Mission addresses the St. Albert Historical Society.

Singles take note

During the last few months the Community Services Department has received several enquiries about the possible formation of self-help group for people who have recently become "singled" through separation or divorce.

The problems related to the single state are varied: They can be financial, social or emotional but can also be alleviated by sharing them with others in similar situations.

Anyone interested in helping form a group or in belonging is asked to phone the Community Services Department at 459-6601, extension 78.

District 6 School Board Briefs

Trustees of Protestant Separate School District 6 made the following motions and referrals at their regular board meeting on Wednesday, February 23.

A recommendation was made by Supt. Elmer Gish that a Temporary Reading Teacher be hired for three months for junior high students with particular reading problems. The board referred the recommendation to the Education Committee for further study. Assistant Superintendent Bob Prather explained that the appointment would benefit certain students with specific reading difficulties which could be remedied on a short-term basis, once attended to. Such problems do not lend themselves to solution in a classroom.

Trustee Murdo MacFarlane moved that a request from Mrs. Barbara Porter for a one-day leave of absence be granted. The motion was defeated.

A request by Miss Linda Church for a year's leave of absence in 1977-78 to pursue another business interest. The motion to deny was carried.

A recommendation from Supt. Gish to update a former board resolution in regard to the designation of an attendance officer was moved and accepted by Mr. Webber. The motion carried.

Mr. Gish made another recommendation to update policy regarding student suspension and expulsion. Mr. Gish stated he had been informed by ASTA solicitors that specific rules would have to be incorporated in board policy. If this was not done, the minister or courts might not accept an expulsion or suspension. Mr. Webber moved the recommendation be accepted. The motion carried.

Trustees discussed again the construction of an alternate access to Sir Alexander Mackenzie School. Mr. Webber told trustees that the city engineer had informed the board of plans to widen Sir Winston Churchill Avenue, but that the city did not know if they were going to do this presently or next year. The city said they would build a temporary access for the school at a cost to the board of $1,500. Mr. Webber suggested the board avoid spending this amount and delay action until they knew when the city planned to widen the street.

Dr. Cuts reported that he had attended the ASTA Zone 2 meeting and that two good speeches had been given on a comparison of Canadian and American schools and the Ten Sins of Education.

Heart disease causes premature death and dability. Your Heart Campaign dollars support research which will help stop unnecessary death and suffering. Be generous when a Heart volunteer knocks at your door.

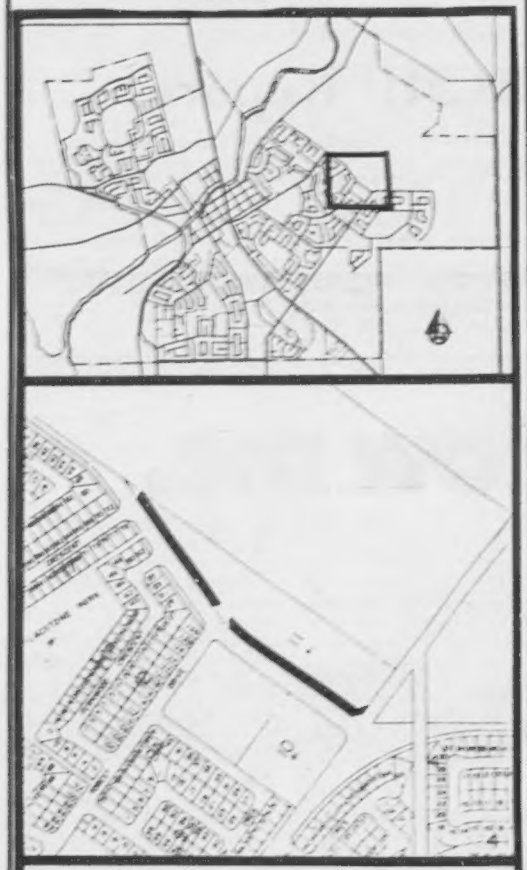

Thank You

We would like to express our most sincere thanks to Father Joly, Monseigneur Malone and members of the clergy who assisted in the concelebration of mass, to Mrs. Upright, Mrs. Day and Dr. MacDougall who provided the music for the funeral service. Thank you also to the ushers, the honourary pallbearers, pallbearers, the Knights of Columbus and the Lions Club members who participated in the service and supported us in many ways. Our thanks goes also to the ladies organizations whose members served the luncheon. To all the friends who helped us in so many ways in a difficult time, and to all who sent messages and flowers and expressed their sympathy and affection, we would like you to know how much your kindness meant to us all, and how deeply it is appreciated.

Play written on Lacombe

An item in the Western Producer was forwarded by a reader who did not give his name in which it is advised that a play is being written about Father Lacombe. The article asks Western Producer readers who have personally known the missionary to get in touch with Inter-Faith Lacombe Centre, 14502 MacLeod Trail, S.E., Calgary, Alberta.

The article goes on: "No doubt some modest persons who knew him will think they have nothing to add to his story, but they should get in touch just the same - it's amazing how little bits and pieces fit together to make a good big picture of the person."

The item did not mention who is writing the play.

Family Pastors conduct services for Dennis Reimer

Reverend Douglas Stiller, pastor of Spruce Grove Community Church, and Reverend Douglas Stiller, former pastor to the family in Winnipeg, conducted the funeral services for Dennis Barry Reimer at the Chapel of Chimes on Monday, February 21. Dennis lost his life in a tragic vehicle collision near Morinville while on his way to a hockey game with Darrell Ness, who also lost his life.

Two friends of Dennis, Marlo Johnson and Pastor Jim Barrs, were soloists. Pallbearers were Ronald and Mark Reimer, brothers, Tim Smith and Colin Parayko, young neighbors, and Alex Solberg and Albert Perras, hockey team-mates. Interment was in Beechmont Cemetery in Edmonton.

Following the service luncheon was served in the Reimer home on Amber Crescent by neighbours.

Dennis was born in St. Boniface, Manitoba, on November 21, 1958, and came with his family to St. Albert in August of 1974. He attended Paul Kane High School and graduated with the class of 1976. Through the move he lacked one credit for his higher education and had completed that course in January. He was employed at Canadian Automotive Warehouse Ltd. in Edmonton.

He hoped to make hockey his career and planned to enroll for his first year at Camrose College in the fall. Dennis started playing hockey at the age of seven as a goalie in the Winnipeg hockey program, and went on to become a fine forward with excellent scoring ability.

At the age of 10 he received the Fred Fraser Award for Sportsmanship, as the best all-year around sportsman in his league. Dennis continued throughout his career to place a high value on good sportsmanship in hockey, and was much against the trend to increasing violence in the game. His penalty record for the current year was one. After having his head split open, requiring stitches, and a number of bad hits this year, he wondered out loud if the violence kept up would he give up the game. But he loved it too well and planned instead to make it a full time career and perhaps help to reverse today's trend to rough play.

DENNIS REIMER

Dennis also played a lot of baseball as a Little Leaguer and he loved the outdoors and was an avid camper.

He had infinite patience with younger children and many were the games of road hockey and football scrimmages that the young boys in his neighbourhood enjoyed. Nearly every evening they would be calling at the door to see if Dennis would join them in a game. These young friends are missing him very much and little Patrick Murphy, 10 years, summed it up to his mother "I guess God needed two good hockey players."

Dennis is survived by his parents, Henry and Dorothy Reimer; two brothers Ronald and Mark and one sister Valerie, all at home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reimer of Winnipeg. His grandparents and a number of other relatives from Winnipeg were in attendance at the services, as were representatives from all the teams in his juvenile league.

Mayor Richard Plain signed a proclamation on Thursday, February 17 designating last week as Pere Albert Lacombe Week. With him are Mrs. Florence Lefebvre, chairman of the Cultural Co-operative Committee and Mrs. George Newman, secretary treasurer of the committee. As the proclamation in last week's Gazette indicated, the week of February 21-27 was Pere Albert Lacombe Week.

Tunnel vision on ambulance service

I am one of the citizens who attended city council's hearing regarding an ambulance service. I fear that our mayor and some council members are suffering typical government tunnel vision.

What I advocated, and I believe, Mr. Hobson of the Safety Council advocated, was a BASIC service. It is incorrect of Mr. Plain to state that there is only a difference of $14,000 between what the Safety Council proposed and what the mayor calls "a fully paramedic service."

None of the three "cases" presented by city council can be called a BASIC service because all utilize a paramedic director, several additional paramedics and four vehicle operators.

It was never clarified why we cannot start with ONE vehicle staffed by the minimum required St. John Ambulance personnel. Dr. Albrecht convincingly showed that we do not now require a paramedic service.

What difference does it make how many calls per month there might be or how many transfers there might be?

The time has come it would seem, for St. Albert to have an ambulance service. As any intelligent person knows, the hospital is the logical base for such a service. Therefore, may I state again, councils concerned must work out a co-operative approach. If the various councils and board members cannot reach an agreement between themselves one has to question their ability to govern. Therefore, in the interim, council members, be sincere, exercise your vested authority and provide a BASIC service. BASIC: like one vehicle and required St. John personnel. Anything more than that at this time is irresponsible. Taxpayers, be assured that if council goes as I perceive it is going we will be saddled with an additional deficit twice what council estimates. It happened in the case of our bus service and will happen again. And one does not need a Ph.D. in economics or an economic study to know that!

Approach permanent wear lenses with caution

This letter is in response to the article on Permanent Wear Contact Lenses that appeared in your paper February 16, 1977.

The article generally endorsed these lenses although there was no indication who wrote it and where they received their information.

There are very few people fitting these lenses as yet, because of adverse results and possible damage to the eye resulting from permanent wear. There hasn't been enough research done with this lens yet and anyone fitting this lens without proper observation and follow-up testing doesn't have the patients best interests at heart.

On Friday, February 11, 1977, at the annual general meeting of the Alberta Optometric Association the following resolution was unanimously passed.

"Whereas the profession of Optometry has a responsibility to see that every reasonable precaution is taken to protect the public against any possible dangers that may result from the use of any new vision care procedure or product,

Therefore be it resolved that all Optometrists in Alberta are hereby urged not to prescribe the continuous wear of any contact lens at the present time."

As this resolution should indicate, the continuous wear lens is not recommended at this time. I urge prospective wearers to get more than one opinion before they go ahead with this lens.

If you see a man kissing a computer, it means which of the following: (a) he's bonkers, (b) you're bombed, (c) he's happy, or (d) it's his job?

The last is correct.

In the escalating war of wits between crooks, spies, and security men, a Japanese company has produced a computer that registers lip prints. It won't work until the operator presses his or her lips against it, and then only if the kiss stirs something in the computer's memory bank

Most computers are more easily turned on, and that can cost money, the National Geographic Society points out.

THEFT & ESPIONAGE

Since computers only follow orders, crooked programmers can lead them astray. The electronic marvels have aided and abetted theft and embezzlement, fraud and extortion, and military and industrial espionage.

Authorities believe computer crime ranges as high as $300 million a year. But that's just an estimate, since some computerized chicanery undoubtedly goes undetected.

Criminals have found there are better ways to rob a bank, for example, than with guns. One man retained to computerize a bank's checking accounts programmed the computer to ignore overdrafts on his own account.

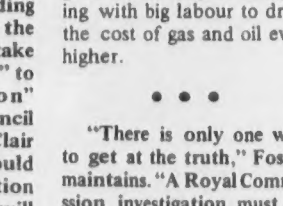

He spent regularly and deposited rarely, while the bank made good on his checks. Similarly, a man engaged to adjust a computer for one of the nation's largest credit card companies adjusted it to enter no charges against his card number. He then went on an extended travel and shopping spree.

Both thieves were nabbed, not through good detective work, but because the computers later broke down and their accounts were processed by sharp-eyed human bookkeepers.

PENNIES ADD UP

Another breakdown undid the programmer for a mutual funds company. He instructed the computer to take all fractions of cents that appeared when it posted investors' shares each month and add them to his account. It cost him a little when stocks fell, but he more than made up for it when they rose.

Slippery Business

Arthur and Henry Henuset own a business that, logically enough, is called Henuset Bros. Ltd. In its 27 years of operation, Henuset has built 25,000 miles of pipeline in Canada, making it probably the country's biggest pipeline contractor.

Back in November, Alberta Oil Sands Pipeline (A.O.S.P.) Limited needed approximately 150 miles of crude oil pipeline built. Syncrude Canada Limited needed 162 miles of gas pipeline. Henuset was invited to bid on both projects, just as the company has bid on hundreds of similar projects in the past.

As it turned out, however, these contracts were awarded in a rather unorthodox manner. Although Henuset's bid was the lowest in both cases (by about $5 million total on a combined bid of only $17 million), the company lost both tenders!

What went wrong? The key appears to be union pressure tactics. On November 25th, delegates at a convention of the Alberta and N.W.T. Building Trades Council ordered, according to a newspaper report at the time, their executive to "take whatever steps necessary" to bar further "non-union" pipeline contracts. Council President Lawrence LeClair explained that this "could mean the whole construction industry in this province will be shut down."

Shortly after the convention, Henuset discovered that the contracts would be awarded to the second-lowest bidders. Arthur and Henry Henuset concluded that A.O.S.P. Ltd. and Syncrude had knuckled under to union pressure.

There's more to the story, however. A.S.O.P. Ltd. is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Alberta Energy Company which, in turn, is 50.1% owned by the Province of Alberta. Meanwhile, three governments – the federal, the Province of Alberta, and the Province of Ontario – own pieces of Syncrude. And governments supposedly exist to protect all Canadians from high-handed power plays by any segment of society.

"At this stage, there is no solid proof that Henuset lost the contracts because of government complicity in a union powerplay," Jack Foster of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business points out. "However, if the truth coincides with appearances, the implications are endless and serious. In the midst of a well-documented energy crisis, it appears that government may be conspiring with big labour to drive the cost of gas and oil even higher.

"There is only one way to get at the truth," Foster maintains. "A Royal Commission investigation must be called immediately. There is no alternative when governments' ability to protect the rights of all Canadians appears compromised."

What Caught Our Eye

By Gazette Staff Writers

DOGS' LAMP POST IS A SHOCKER.

Ringo the mongrel and his doggy pals have been giving their favourite lamp post a wide berth lately. For it has become eletrified ... and cock-a-leg has suddenly turned into shock-a-leg.

Ringo's owner, Mr. A. Ling said he didn't take much notice when the dog jumped and yelped while paying his respects to the lamp-post in Billericay, Essex. But when a neighbour took Ringo walkies and reported the same thing, the shocking truth emerged.

However Ringo and his friends should soon lose their hangdog expressions. The local Power Company have promised to repair the lamp as soon as possible.

LIONS LEAP ON CRIME, AND THAT'S A BIG 10/4

The Lions and the Law have teamed up in the little town of Cresswell, Oregon, population 1,525 in a program that has reduced burglaries by two-thirds and has almost eliminated vandalism.

Marshalling community residents who own Citizen Band radios, the Lions and the Chamber of Commerce formed what has now become the 102-member Cresswell Neighborhood Watch.

Lions members patrol regularly, using their own vehicles. They cover a 50-square mile area each Friday, Saturday and Sunday night in three hour shifts, two cars per shift, two persons per car.

The unarmed patrol makes an average of 10 radio reports each weekend to the Sherrif's deputy on duty--cars parked in strange locations, broken windows, kids hanging around, guys "squirreling" their cars. The deputy follows through on reports, making contact in about half the cases.

The watch is aided inadvertantly by the numerous area residents with CB antennas on their vehicles. Some teen-agers contemplating driving up on the school lawn for kicks may see an antenna--whether it belongs to a Watch member or not--and think better of his urge.

Ongoing expenses--gas and a little postage are paid for from the proceeds of a community fund-raising dinner. Local businesses, grateful for the increased security, have begun chipping in too.

Lane County Sherriff Dave Burks has nothing but praise for the Lions' role in developing a successful community crime prevention program.

"We're very, very pleased with them helping us out, he says. "We just don't have enough police officers and the Watch really complements our service.

"It's neighbour helping neighbour, and it helps the whole community a great deal."

ST. BERNARD PSYCHED OUT BY SNOW

The secret shame of Brutus the St. Bernard is out ... He is terrified of snow! It has come as a bitter blow. For Brutus is descended from a long line of St. Bernards famed for rescuing people trapped in blizzards.

At first it seemed Brutus must continue the proud line of lion-hearted dogs. But when it came to the test recently the large cuddly pooch got cold feet. As snow carpeted the moors near his home in Scotland, instead of rescuing people from the drifts, it was Brutus who had to be rescued ... by a policeman. He went missing when his owner, John Garrad, took him for a late night walk near his home at Howgate Midlothian. Brutus took one look at the deepening snow and ran off in a blind panic, trying to get away from it all.

He was still missing after two days and the police were called in. Finally the shame of his breed was found shivering and cowering beside a road three miles from his home. His owner said poor Brutus just panicked in all that snow. He hates it. When the police brought him back he was so exhausted he couldn't eat. Brutus still carries his Brandy barrel, but thats a family joke said his owner.

WOOD STOVES ARE A HOT ITEM!

According to the National Geographic Society, old-fashioned wood-burning stoves are selling like hot cakes these days. Their purchasers are mainly homeowners disgruntled by soaring utility bills this frigid winter. The vintage pot-belly and Franklin stoves that used to warm railroad stations and schoolrooms are finding their way into living rooms in urban, suburban and rural areas. One Washington D.C. dealer sold 3,500 last year.

The sophistication of the modern wood stoves would boggle the minds of any frontiersman of days gone by, but compared to many familiar household objects, the enclosed metal stove of current popularity is a fairly recent invention. The Chinese supposedly used them centuries ago, but the charcoal brazier cast the dominant glow in the West. The Middle Ages brought the first chimneys, and introduced brick-and-tile stoves to French, Dutch and German living rooms.

The first iron stoves were cast in Alsace in the late 15th century, but had no grates or air control. In the New World, the heating problem was worse, and coal had to be imported from Europe. First Lady Abigail Adams wrote plaintively: "Surrounded with forests, can you believe that wood is not to be had, because people cannot be found to cut and cart it?"

Ben Franklin, tired of being "Scorched before and froze behind," became America's heating hero when he invented the portable iron fireplace, that protruded into the room. Today, modern variations of his invention have never been more popular.

Council receives street grant

A cheque from the Provincial Government in the amount of $446,840 has been forwarded to Mayor Plain, which may be the last of its particular kind. The funds are provided as a street improvement grant under an Alberta program to assist town and village councils to improve local conditions. In future St. Albert will of course come under city funding programs.

BIDS IN ON WHITECOURT SEWAGE PLANT

Five bids have been received on the construction of the sewage treatment plant here. The firms submitting bids were Poole Construction Ltd., Commonwealth Construction Co. Ltd., CEL Contracting Ltd., Arrow Management (1975) Ltd., and Heathrow Construction. The bids ranged from $1,329,909 to $1,590,430.

The plant was initially designed to serve a population of 6,000 but, by going to a different mode of operation, it can be expanded to serve 8,000. It will operate on a 24 hour retention basis, initially, but will go to six hour retention to handle 8,000.

The treatment process involves aerating the effluent being piped to the Athabasca River. When the population exceeds 8,000, another aeration tank will be required, which would then enable the plant to serve 16,000 people.

Patco Construction has been putting in the North Trunk Sewer Main which will collect sewage from the entire town and allow the development of the property east of Millar Road.

Present sewage treatment facilities consist of four anaerobic ponds north of the golf course. The new plant has been made necessary by the rapid growth of the town and new Department of Environment regulations.

BARRHEAD STAGES CREATIVE ARTS PROGRAM

A program stressing the social growth of children, rather than the academic growth, is being funded through the Town of Barrhead Recreation Office. The program is open to all three and four year olds in the community and runs from 9:30 a.m. till 11 a.m. every morning except school holidays.

The program was established to provide an opportunity for a young child to meet and interact with a greater number of children than might be possible in his home or neighbourhood environment. Because of this social preparation, the transition to kindergarten will hopefully be made more smoothly. In addition, the child is placed in a setting in which he can begin to seek his own level amongst his peers. The experience increases self-confidence and fosters a sense of independence away from the home environment.

Most of the time spent in the program is devoted to free play, when the child can explore a range of activities, either by himself or with a group. There is no pressure to join in, participate, learn, finish or achieve. The latter lack of pressure is stressed as this is the child's first exposure to a school-like atmosphere, and a positive experience is desirable.

Because this is a sort of introduction to school, there is some structure to the program, but flexibility is built-in. Two 15 minute segments per session are set aside to help the child's co-ordination, and to encourage group participation. Activities include craft work, music, "Let's Pretend" periods, physical training, and films.

AWARD HINTON AIRPORT CONTRACT

The first contract concerning the Jasper/Hinton airport has been awarded by Alberta Transportation. The contract was let out to Border Paving Ltd. of Red Deer, and is in the amount of $520,327.28.

According to Dr. Hugh M. Horner, deputy premier and minister of Transportation, the airport is scheduled for completion in the fall and will handle local or commuter traffic. Gateway Aviation Ltd., has already received permission from the Canadian Transport Commission to operate a service between Edmonton, Edson and Jasper/Hinton when the runway is complete.

The new runway will measure 4,000 by 100 feet and will accommodate single and multi-engine aircraft including the Beech 99 Airliner, the deHavilland Twin Otter, the 30-passenger Short 3-30 and the 40 passenger version of the Hawker Siddely 748.

The first contract involves initial development work, such as grading, base, paving and other work on the runway, including taxiways and aircraft parking ramp, as well as paving at the junction of Highway 16 and Secondary Road 999. The remaining contracts will be called later in the season.

Elementary school math to undergo basic changes

The face of mathematics in Alberta elementary schools will change in the coming year, according to a release from the office of Education Minister Julian Koziak. The changes are in accordance with recommendations by the Curriculum Policies Board, and in the words of Mr. Koziak, "emphasize mastery of basic skills." Mr. Koziak went on to say that "the changes are consistent with the government's continuing priorities for 1977 to review emphasis on the basics and to provide province-wide leadership as indicated recently by Premier Lougheed and as requested by the Alberta School Trustees' Association in their recent submission to Cabinet."

The recommendations, which follow extensive piloting in many schools, include specification of basic knowledge and skills for each grade level; reduction of technical mathematical language and symbols to improve understanding and communication; introduction of elementary graphs and charts applicable to social studies, science and other studies. There will be a shift in emphasis from studying parts of objects and shapes in geometry to studying the shape, position and size of entire objects and figures.

Because of conversion to the metric system, there will be an increased emphasis on decimal fractions and shift of computations with common fractions to junior high school. Metric units of measurement will be used in accordance with the national plan to convert to the metric system.

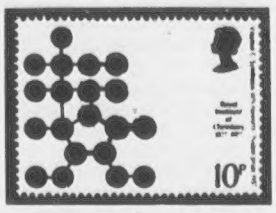

Mr. Koziak commented that "students in the pilot program were enthusiastic about their success. It's the kind of enthusiasm we expect will encourage progress at every level."

Discoveries that help mankind

The world is a better place because of the discoveries in science and technology since the beginning of the century - and the British Post Office is to pay tribute to the pioneering work of six British scientists who have been awarded Nobel prizes. Four stamps are to be issued, to coincide with the centenary of the Royal Institute of Chemistry on March 2.

A year before he died in 1896, Alfred Nobel, the Swedish scientist, signed his will making a provision for the major portion of his estate to be invested and the income to be "distributed annually in the form of prizes to those who during the preceding year have conferred the greatest benefit on mankind."

The British Post Office will be issuing the stamps which have been designed by Mr. Jerzy Karo, head of Graphics at the City of Leicester Polytechnic. They are his first stamp designs.

SIR NORMAN HAWORTH

Born in Lancashire in 1883 was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1937 for his work on the study of carbohydrates and Vitamin C. His work meant that a synthetic vitamin, identical to that found in citrus fruits, could be produced by man. On the 10p stamp Sir Norman's work is remembered by the design showing the molecular structure of Vitamin C and a section of an orange.

DEREK BARTON

The 8½p stamp pays tribute to the work of Sir Derek Harold Richard Barton, born in Kent in 1918. His work covered the study of the three-dimensional structure of complex molecules which led to the production of natural substances in the laboratory. Sir Derek was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1969. The stamp shows the diagram of the central part of the chemical structure of a steriod against a background of pharmaceutical products and instruments.

St. Albert Safety Council Report

The St. Albert Safety Council meeting was held on Thursday, February 24. Despite a rather poor attendance, there was a lively discussion, particularly on the subject of the proposed ambulance service.

Prior to this, however, other items of business included a discussion on the Block Parent program. Betty Pimblett reported on a phone call from Lawrence Johnson, who was co-ordinator of the program here when the Safety Council first took it over. He now lives in Fort McMurray, and reported that the Block Parent program is just being set up in that city. He has been appointed chief co-ordinator. Our congratulations go to Lawrence. We rather suspected when he left us, that if Fort McMurray did not already have Block Parents, they soon would!

The St. John's Ambulance first aid course, due partly to the time factor involved in obtaining a location, and partly to the spring break in the schools, cannot be held until April. If the location is settled the course should start on Tuesday, April 19. This will be advertised in the news media when confirmation is received.

Enquiries are still being made re the cost of obtaining a 16mm sound projector for use during the defensive driving courses and for showing the Block Parent film and othr films which would be available to us if we had our own projector. The decision has been made to purchase a projector when the price is right!

A public meeting on home and general safety which is being planned will have the support and cooperation of the local RCMP Detachment.

A pleasant evening was enjoyed by Safety Council members at a party held on February 4. Thanks were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller for the use of their home on this occasion.

DEFENSIVE DRIVING

It was decided that in future an advertised course will go ahead, regardless of the number of people registered. An intensive campaign is planned to publicize the next course.

MOTOR VEHICLE MODIFICATION

Further to Mr. Allan Smith's presentation to the Safety Council on December 9th on motor vehicle modification and the dangers thereof, a letter has been received from the Motor Vehicle Branch in the Province of Manitoba, in reply to one from us requesting information on recent legislation introduced in that Province.

This legislation covers certain components of motor vehicles. Two examples are:

Motor Cycles.

It is illegal, in the Province of Manitoba, to alter the front forks from the dimensions of the model as originally manufactured.

Suspension system.

It is illegal, in the Province of Manitoba, to raise or lower the suspension system from the height set at the time of the vehicle's manufacture.

The Safety Council will contact the other Provincial Motor Vehicle offices to ascertain whether any other Province has introduced similar legislation.

The public hearing on the proposed ambulance service at the City Council meeting held on Monday, February 21 was discussed in detail.

Safety Council members, after hearing the various proposals put forward, still feel that the urgent need is to have a basic service, with St. John's Ambulance trained personnel, which could probably be set up fairly quickly.

In view of the fact that it takes at least 90 - 120 days to obtain delivery of the necessary vehicle -- depending on the equipment required, and also considering that no decision has yet been reached on the type of service to be set up, Mayor Plain's statement that an ambulance service can be set up by July 1977 would seem to be somewhat optimistic!

The St. Albert Safety Council is concerned that this question has dragged on for so long, and will continue to push for action -- NOW!

The next meeting will be on Thursday, March 10 at 8 p.m., at 20 Muir Drive. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Miners in Yukon during the hey-day of the gold rush paid for their drinks with gold dust. As much as one ounce of gold per drink was charged the thirsty miner. Based on today's price for gold, an ounce of booze would cost well over one hundred dollars. Champagne on the other hand, was worth a mere $60 a quart.

A newspaper cost as much as $15 during the Klondike Gold Rush. It did not matter how old the paper happened to be. Stained with bacon grease, the pages made a good substitute for window panes, after they were read from cover to cover.

** ** **

Paper money was not too popular among the gold rush miners. Having the real thing in a poke was pretty heavy security but it worked to their advantage during the fire in Dawson City on October 14, 1898. Gold and coins burst from bank safes to be reclaimed by washing the ashes and cinders in gold pans.

School Days In St. Albert

Education Week busy at Albert Lacombe

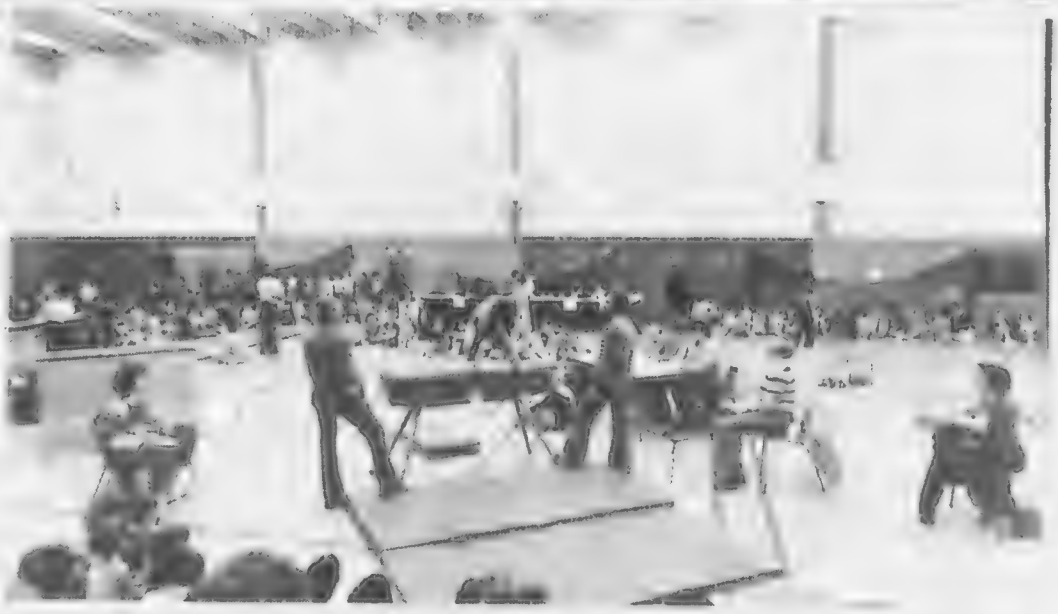

The emphasis will be on the basics next week as Albert Lacombe School celebrates Education Week.

Parents and visitors can enjoy a display on March 10 and 11 in the large gymnasium where language arts, mathematics, social studies, french and religion will be exhibited. Arts and crafts, gymnastics, videotapes and music will also be displayed or performed in the same area. Guest speakers have been invited to speak to the students.

In relation to the administration, there will be a staff-board meeting on March 2nd, and a retreat for staff members will be held at Newman College on March 3rd. Report cards go out on March 4th.

The Albert Lacombe Choir will perform for the official opening of the Bertha Kennedy School on March 8th.

Parents are encouraged to attend the parent-teacher interviews, which will be held Thursday night, March 10 and all day Friday, March 11.

130 children from six different schools in St. Albert competed in a gymnastics competition last Saturday afternoon at Lorne Akins. Ronald Harvey, Vital Grandin, Robert Rundle, Albert Lacombe, Sir George Simpson, and Leo Nickerson were the competing schools with Vital Grandin taking the top school award, a trophy donated by Engineered Homes.

Parents discuss math, pre-reading skills at meeting

By Peter G. Jonkman

Mrs. Elizabeth Duffy, a kindergarten teacher at Vital Grandin School, conducted a very successful workshop on how parents can prepare their children for the development of reading and mathematics skills. The session took place on Wednesday evening, February 23, 1977, at Ronald Harvey Elementary School. The Parent Program Committee was pleased that more than 30 parents, including four fathers, were in attendance.

Mrs. Duffy introduced her topic by showing a new film entitled "Growing Together." The film stressed that learning is a partnership between parent and child and that each partner in the relationship learns from each other, dispelling the old concept that only the child is the benefactor in terms of learning. It went on to point out that the relationship between parent and child should be happy and that learning in the home should be one to one.

Following the film Mrs. Duffy talked very briefly about learning in a general sense and then went on to outline the development of reading in children. She stressed the need for repitition or reinforcement in learning. Learning may be compared to making "pathways" in the mind. This accounts for the fact that senior citizens remember so vividly their early past, because they relived it so many times and at the same time are unable to recall what they did yesterday. Other factors in learning that affect children are such things as maturity and the quality of their environment. At the end of this discussion, the parents prepared seven activities costing less than a dollar for materials that they would be able to use in their homes to foster reading skills.

development of mathematics skills were explained. Then parents prepared five activities that could be utilized in their homes to develop these skills. In conclusion, Mrs. Duffy summarized her presentation by showing parents how meal times and bedtimes can be utilized in preparing children for language and mathematics skills. The key to remember is that learning at this age must be fun. Although, I suppose this is true of all learning, it is absolutely crucial to pre-school children.

The Parent Program Committee would like to thank Mrs. Duffy for her excellent presentation and Mr. J. Bauman, principal at Ronald Harvey Elementary School, for hosting our meeting.

Our next meeting will take place on Tuesday, March 22, and the topic will be "Common Frustrations of Children." Guest speaker will be Dr. David Merchant.

Paul Kane athletes enter cross country run

For almost a year and a half now, the Canadian Federation of Provincial School Athletic Associations has been laying careful plans, and during the week of April 24-30 all its activity will culminate in the Cross-Canada Run.

The run will be made by thousands of high school students throughout the country, each student's single contribution being about one to one-and one-quarter miles.

JO DRYSDALE

The responsibility of the organization has been divided provincially and the Alberta School Athletic Association is supervising our 400 mile stretch from B.C. to Saskatchewan. Those 400 miles are again divided into 10 zones, 40 miles each.

PAUL LITTLE

Locally, two Paul Kane students will stretch their tendons over some distance between the mountains and Red Deer. Paul Little and Jo Drysdale have been selected as P.K.'s representatives. Both have excellent records in running in the past and Paul Kane is glad to be able to present two such well qualified representatives.

Good response to French kindergarten

An informal discussion was led by Mr. Marcel Doucet to initiate a french immersion kindergarten program for St. Albert. Many interested parents attended this meeting at the "Kinsmen Centennial Centre" and provided an enthusiastic response by questioning the possibilities and workings of such a program.

Mrs. Elaine Collins - Neeland, teacher of a french kindergarten program in Edmonton, gave the parents a brief talk of her experience with kindergarten children in this french immersion setting She stated the following information: the child will hear only french, children from all backgrounds may attend this class although there may be no french spoken in their respective homes; the advantage of starting a second language in kindergarten is that the emphasis is only on learning to speak that particular language without additional subjects of mathematics or reading; the child will be more open minded towards different cultures; modern children require a challenge as they receive so much from television, for example, "Sesame Street" or "Electric Company," etc., parental-conviction towards this program is an asset to the child's willingness and enthusiasm to learn.

Due to the excellent response that came from the parents who attended this meeting, steps are being taken to initiate a fall program in St. Albert.

Teen News & Views

By Kelly Daniels
Community Youth Worker

How do you deter vandalism, reduce alcoholism and drug abuse, reduce juvenile crime in general and at the same time preserve an atmosphere of trust, responsibility and learning among the teens of a community. Unfortunately there are few, if any, sure fire answers to this question and since I didn't receive any letters from people in the community I'll assume there's not many people out there who know what will work either.

As a somewhat biased youth worker, I'd like to put forth one man's opinion of the situation. My approach is based on the presupposition that most people, if given the proper support and proper atmosphere during the growing and maturing years, will develop into responsible mature young adults. Of course they will make mistakes in judgement and many seemingly irresponsible decisions but overall they will develop into productive members of society - if we let them.

If you follow me so far and are in general agreement up to now it should follow then that alot of the change has to come about in the adult segment of the community, specifically families. A better awareness by parents on their responsibilities for the younger child and also an understanding of developmental changes that their teens go through and exactly how to cope with these changes may give alot of parents the confidence to deal with their teens.

Along with this education of parents must come a more general education of the public. It is very understandable that many businesses don't like kids "hanging around" their establishments. The method by which they convey this concern to the teens can sometimes results in either broken windows or alternatively a good rapore among manager and teens. This difficulty often arises because teens are in that limbo age being neither child nor adult and many people choose to treat them like children, a decision which can be very regretable for both sides.

A person, suffice it to say, could spend pages talking about laws pertaining to juveniles in the Province of Alberta all the way from the drinking age to the overloaded caseloads of the social workers who deal with juveniles after they have gone through the courts. Let's just say they're in for a much needed overhaul and I for one hope this overhaul will put more responsibility on to parents and make the courts and sentences more of a deterrent than they presently are.

So far I've briefly mentioned external factors which could effectively influence teen acting out in the community. But what about teens themselves?

There is some truth to the thought that "idle hands breed trouble" and more than any other time in a person's life teens have a need to be socially as well as physically active. Some programs are only practical to stage for youth. Things like hockey leagues, baseball leagues, scouting etc., are best administered by experienced adults but these activities reach only a portion of the total youth population. The other portion who are not interested in organized sports are often forgotten to find their own pursuits to meet socializing needs. Take a look at the drive-in, the number of bush bashes in summer or the number of house parties going on during the winter and I think you'll see my point. Out of these activities often come a number of followers and one or two leaders and often alot of trouble.

So now we get into the youth worker concerns and how the community can help but because of space reasons I'll have to continue next week. I'll be speaking at a more direct angle to the problem and how I see it progressing in St. Albert.$

TEEN SCENE

A lot of work and sweat went into many of the activities sponsored by the teen clubs during this year's Avalanche and I'd just like to acknowledge a few who really worked to pull it off. Many thanks to Dave Bolton, Albert Zylstra, Darcy Armstrong, Jim Connelly, Trevor Mowbray, Leslie Holt and Leah Greathead. Also, thanks to the Kiwanis for support at the teen disco and to Tim Clark and Atco for the use of the flat-bed and truck for the teen recreation centre float.

The ski-riders have finally raised enough money and their off this weekend for a ski trip to Banff. You may remember them as the group who sold you that pound of delicious honey. Have a good time group.

With all this warm weather the gym programs are starting to wind down but Vital Grandin on Monday nights and Ronald Harvey on Wednesdays are still active.

Bertha Kennedy Community School

By Sue Hoffart
Community Co-ordinator

With the advent of Community Education in many communities throughout the province, there have been many people asking questions like "What is Community Education: and How do I tell Community Education from any other type of education?"

People that are uncertain about community schools may visit the school and not recognize some of the most important aspects of the educational program. Even the knowledgeable may visit with only one or two key ideas in mind.

The following list was developed to serve as a reminder that mental check for the visitor.

There should be evidence of use by the community before and after school hours -- in the mornings, in the afternoons, and in the evening. The facilities available to the group might include the gym, classrooms, and a community room.

Active participation of community adults could be evidenced in having volunteers in the classroom, in the school programs, and on the community advisory council. Participation includes both men as well as women.

Usually the school staff are involved in community activities. The community becomes aware of special skills available in the community.

There is an optional school program which includes all other programs and activities not included in the required program of the school. The program should include not only school age children but residents of the entire community.

This program, for all people at all hours, does not have a limited time schedule. It is offered at all hours of the day and evening, weekends, and summers. Attendance in this program is optional as contrasted with the mandatory attendance in the required program.

In summary, community education is a concept that brings the community into the school, and takes the school into the community. Total community involvement and shared decision-making are key in community education. Community education requires better use of the skills and interests in the community and better use of school space.

Landing Trail District holds 2nd annual Cub Car Rally

On February 26, the Cubs of Landing Trail District participated in their 2nd annual Cub Car Rally. Seventy-six boys and leaders took part in this event. The rally was held in the basement of the Roman Catholic Church in St. Albert.

Landing Trail District, Boy Scouts of Canada, includes the communities of St. Albert, Morinville, and Westlock. Over 200 boys and girls in 12 Cub Packs are involved in the Cub program in the district. The Cub program challenges eight to 10 year olds to do their best. The Cub Car Rally is one event in which this is best shown. The Cubs fashion, from a kit, a model of a race car. The kit includes a block of wood, wheels and decals. From this it is up to the Cubs to carve, cut, shape, sandpaper, and paint their models. The number of cars entered in the rally indicate there are a large number of skilled and imaginative young people in our community.

The rally was organized into two categories: a modelling event, and a racing event. The Cubs competed against each other according to age classes. David Goss had the best model as a seven or eight year old, Darryl Koshman won the nine year old model group. The racing events were won by Randy Cowan, 10 years old; and Shawn Zerkowski, seven and eight year olds. Unfortunately, the names of the winners in the nine year old racing event, and the 10 year old modelling event are not available at this time. If these boys, and the boys whose cars were numbered 100, 103, 108, 111, 112, 116, 130, 131, and 133 will phone Hugh Smith at 459-7445, a complete list of winners will be published later.

An event such as this could not have taken place without the co-operation of many people. The organizers would like to thank the following people for their special contributions: Alex Forsyth, Garry Hodgins, and Harold Kay who judged the modelling events; Phil Sturges of Woodward's Westmount who made the Cub Car track available; Graham Gale and his group of workers who provided the concession stand; the St. Albert Parish for the use of the Church basement. The efforts put forth by the Cub leaders and the boys deserve a special mention for without their participation the Rally would not have taken place.

Air Cadets in Review
St. Albert R.C.A. C. Squadron No. 533

By Cpl. Mike Parkin

This column marks the end of a very hectic weekend for the squadron. On Saturday, February 26 and Sunday the 27th, as well as the evening of Monday the 28th, the squadron was delivering phone books throughout St. Albert. On Saturday 6,500 phone books were delivered, on Sunday approximately 2,000 books were delivered and Monday evening 1,000 more books, the remainder of the books were delivered. These efforts will net the squadron approximately nine hundred dollars, all of which will be used to pay for trips which will be taken to Camp Wright, near Athabasca and Jasper, as well as tours taken during the week. I would like to, on behalf of the squadron, thank all parents, Lions club members and all cadets who helped. We couldn't have done it without you. Thanks very much.

Tuesday evening, March 1 at 7 p.m., our squadron sent a rifle team to the Edmonton Gun Club, for a shoot-off against Army Cadet, Sea Cadet, other Air Cadet and RCMP riflery teams. Results as to our standing in the competition are to be published next week. Members of the team are: WO1 G. Armstrong, F1Sgt. M. Cady, Sgt. T. Davies, Cpl. M. Dyer and LAC S. Barr.

That's about it for this week. .

Junior Achievement endorsed by Premier

Premier Lougheed expressed his good wishes to Junior Achievement of Alberta on the occasion of Junior Achievement Week which started February 28 and ends March 5.

The Premier said "Junior Achievement provides an outstanding and unique opportunity for young Albertans to actively participate in the ownership and operation of small business enterprises, and the valuable experience gained through J.A. contributes to personal self-confidence and leadership ability.

Congratulations and warm wishes for a successful year to Junior Achievement during J.A. Week in Alberta."

Committee to collect Native history

A recent meeting of the St. Albert Cultural Co-operative Committee was held to hear a proposal that a native and metis museum and archives be formed in order that the vibrant history of the metis people be properly collected and preserved.

At the suggestion of various resource people, letters have gone out to all of the Alberta Metis Association's Locals along with a draft copy of the original proposal prepared by Donald Norris, in order to get their reaction to the formation of such a project. Donald, a metis, has become adept in geneology, having done extensive research into his own ancestry.

As many readers know, St. Albert was originally a metis settlement, well documented by Father Lacombe. Many of these families still reside in and around this area and would have much to contribute to any such project. Anyone interested in this project, please contact Kay Mayling at 458-0906.

Thinking Day ceremonies open Scout - Guide week

Down the centre aisle of St. Albert Catholic Church last Sunday afternoon marched some 450 uniformed boys and girls of St. Albert Scout-Guide movement.

They were representatives of 750 members of the Landing Trail Scout District and 584 members in St. Albert Guide Division. Landing Trail extends to Westlock and Barrhead; St. Albert Division includes Winterburn and Calahoo.

The occasion was Thinking Day, an annual service honoring Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the movement, his wife Olave, chief guide, and fellow Scouts and Guides in 93 other countries.

Thinking Day here also marks the opening of Scout-Guide week. The national theme "Thanks -- for helping us grow" was observed in the service.

Douglas Taylor and St. Albert District Guide Commissioner Mrs. Pat Corbett led the procession. Mayor Richard Plain, flanked by Guiders Mrs. J. D. Tupper and Mrs. J. A. Rasmussen followed.

The Canadian flag, leading an array of Scout and Guide company flags and carried by Ranger Deidre Dorran, was accepted and placed by Mayor Plain.

Mr. Taylor presented the Cathy Taylor Award to Shannon Payne, junior leader of Fifth Guide Company. The award, in memory of Mr. Taylor's daughter who received the Guide Badge of Fortitude for courage under suffering, is given to the Guide considered most faithful to the Guide promise and law. Shannon is the fifth Guide to receive the award since it was first given in 1969.

Shannon, also a packie, or assistant, in Fifth Brownie Pack, spoke briefly on her four years in Guiding. "Guiding has always meant new experiences," she said, "and it has also meant people who are willing to help me."

COMMUNITY THANKED

Rover Bruce Sloan, grade 12 Paul Kane student and member of the Debate and Speech Society of that school, conducted the service. Thanking the community for the movement, he cited School Districts No. 3 and No. 6, Sturgeon School Division No. 24, Mrs. Gail Bell of St. Albert Parks and Recreation, Mayor Plain, Reeve of Sturgeon MD William Flynn and MLA Ernest Jamison. He also thanked St. Albert Parish, Sturgeon District Guide Local Association, Scout and Guide Commissioners.

Adam Threlfall of Third Beaver Colony, Blair Morling of Third Cub Pack, Robert Hays of Fourth Sea Scouts, Krista Monson of 12th Brownie Pack and Elaine Lemieux of Third Guide Company spoke the promise of their respective groups.

Stephen McNeil of Fourth Sea Scouts gave the invocation and Ranger Kathleen Telfer, the benediction. Jennifer Muffit of Sixth Brownie Pack read her winning essay on the purpose of Thinking Day pennies.

David Snable was organist. Merla Aikman led the singing.

Refreshment, served by Sturgeon District L.A., followed the service.

Scout-Guide Week will conclude February 27 with a hike to the former Guide camp grounds on the Sturgeon River. Members and friends participating are asked to meet at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School at 1:30 p.m., each bringing his own lunch, cocoa mix and a cup. Bonfire and hot water will be provided by the Scouts.

The annual Thinking Day Service which honours Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, the founders of Scouting and Guiding, was held in the St. Albert Roman Catholic Church last Sunday. All St. Albert patrols were represented at this colourful event which initiates a week of Scout-Guide activities.

Senior Citizens plan old time dance

Seniors are reminded to keep Friday, April 1st free. That is the date of the next important event on the seniors' social calendar - another Old Time Dance (the last one was a great success). Tickets at $3 per adult will be available shortly.

The sale originally planned for May has been postponed till the fall. In the meantime, all kinds of articles are being sewn, knit, crocheted etc., in preparation for the sale by the ladies group which meets every Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

On Thursday, March 3, after the lunch served at the Centre through the Meals-on-Wheels program, a film will be shown by Mrs. Pat Maw from the Sturgeon Health Unit.

The first prize winners at the card party held on Tuesday, March 1 were Mrs. Laplante and Louis Leff and Ed Borle who tied for the men's prize. Mrs. Lily Millar and Mrs. Marten took home consolation prizes. The next card party will be held on Tuesday, March 17 at 1:30 p.m. and the Kinsmen Bingo will run on Tuesday, March 10 at 7 p.m.

No fatalities during Safe Driving Week

Three Alberta cities over 40,000 population completed the 1976 Safe Driving Week without a fatal accident, reports the Alberta Safety Council. Certificates of Merit, signed by His Excellency the Governor General, have been awarded to the cities of Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge.

Safe Driving Week, sponsored annually by the Canada Safety Council from December 1 to 7, provides a special opportunity for all of us to think about our driving and pedestrian habits and responsibilities.

Over 500 traffic deaths occurring in this province each year point out the need to improve our skills.

"There are ways to do this - by taking the Defensive Driving Course, wearing safety belts, reducing speeds, obeying the rules and by being concerned," adds Bob Novikoff of the Alberta Safety Council.

The citizens of Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge have shown what can be accomplished when a conscious effort is made to think and act positively about the safety of themselves and others. As Albertans we can do even more by carrying this example throughout the year.

One of the best Bible descriptions of gambling is found in Haggai 1:6 "Your income disappears as though you were putting it into a pocket filled with holes."

One of the saddest myths perpetrated by gambling is that it offers a way out of poverty for poor people. For each person who wins, (and in some lotteries it is 800,000 to one,) hundreds of thousands gamble themselves into poverty and criminal activities to support their gambling habits.

A New York City college professor, quoted in a Wall Street Journal editorial explains: "Gambling is technically a swindle: the payoffs on bets must be less than fair, and the overwhelming majority of the investors must eventually lost their money if the gambling enterprise is to survive and prosper."

Dr. Edmond Bergler in his book Psychology of Gambling lists six points that indicate an individual has lost control when it comes to gambling:

1. Gambling is a typical, chronic and repetitive experience in his life.

2. Gambling absorbs all his other interests like a sponge.

3. The gambler cannot stop when he is winning.

4. The gambler is pathologically optomistic about winning and never "learns his lesson" when he loses.

5. No matter how great his initial caution, the true gambler eventually risks more than he can afford.

6. The gambler seeks and enjoys an enigmatic thrill which cannot be logically explained, since it is compounded of as much pain as pleasure.

Pioneer Sister to visit Elim Chapel here

This week Elim Chapel in St. Albert is delighted to be featuring an unusual guest speaker, Sister Josepha from Darmstadt, West Germany.

The founder of this Sisterhood, Mother Basilea Schlink, together with several other dedicated sisters, pioneered deep into the wilderness and began by hand to build what is today a very large, modern compound and retreat centre known as Cannan.

Mother Basilea is a well known author and one of her very popular books, "Patmos," based on the book of Revelation as given to the disciple John, has answers to the very frequently heard questions these days, such as, "What on earth is happening?", "What does all this violence mean?" "Is there anything that can be done?".

In the evening of Friday, March 4 at 7 p.m., there will be a slide presentation of the book "Patmos," considering these questions and giving us some answers.

This is all happening at Elim Chapel on Friday, March 4 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. with Sister Josepha speaking, then again in the evening at 7 p.m. with the slides on "Patmos."

Everyone is welcome.

Report encourages use of teaching aides para-professionals

A report reviewing the use of teacher aides, assistants, auxiliary staff, tutors, students and volunteers in Alberta schools in the 1975-76 school term has been released by the Minister of Education, Julian Koziak. The descriptive study of school staffing practices was requested jointly by the Alberta Teachers Association and the Alberta School Trustees Association, and examines various patterns of instructional and clerical assistance to teachers. Case studies are documented, with suggestions for possible avenues for future practice, and a number of recommendations for action by school boards, teachers and government.

The report recommends recognition and publicizing of alternative staffing practices which have been successful in Alberta schools. Clarification of legislation defining teaching and policies relating to the use of aides and auxiliary staff is requested, as well as the provision of training on the effective use of aides and auxiliary staff.

INCREASED RESOURCE PERSONNEL

The report promotes the use of teacher assistants, interns, qualified auxiliary staff, students and volunteers through workshops on the effective use of aides. The report would also have school boards include a wider range of resource personnel in schools such as reading clinicians, teacher assistants and teacher interns, with a more extensive use of student teachers.

A special fund would be set up at the provincial level to assist in planning and implementation of alternative staffing practices, and a certification program developed for certain categories of para-professionals. The report stresses retention of a careful distinction between teaching and assisting.

The minister expressed pleasure with the comprehensive report and said he expected it would provide valuable guidelines for boards employing para-professionals. He continued to say that the employment of aides rests with local school boards and administrative staff and classroom teachers. He said the adoption of many of the study's recommendations depends upon co-operative initiative between school boards, teachers and the community.

Bernard Turgeon to tour Alberta communities

Alberta Culture will sponsor a province-wide recital and lecture tour by baritone Bernard Turgeon between late February and early May 1977.

Fifteen communities will have an opportunity to draw on Mr. Turgeon's wide experience as a performer and teacher and may choose from a variety of his recital, concert and workshop presentations. Programs may be comprised of full length public recitals, noon-hour public concerts, educational concerts that acquaint students with the singer's art, master classes for advanced voice students, teachers' workshops, lecture recitals, or work with choirs.

Bernard Turgeon is a native of Edmonton, Alberta and a graduate of the Toronto Opera School. His repertoire of some 90 roles has led to appearances with companies in Canada, Europe, Russia and the United States. On home ground in 1967 he achieved fresh success in creating the lead role in Harry Somer's opera, "Louis Riel," which had its world premiere with the Canadian Opera Company in Toronto and was aired nationally by the CBC television network. Mr. Turgeon is head of the voice-opera program at the University of Alberta and of the voice/opera department at the Banff Centre School of Fine Arts.

Mr. Turgeon's tour of Alberta commenced February 24 in Camrose. For schedule details and bookings, community sponsors may contact: Alberta Culture, Performing Arts Touring, 11th Floor, CN Tower, 10004 - 104 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J OK5. Phone 427-2559.

TENSE MOMENT -- You'd probably look frightened too if you were looking down the barrel of a Blow Gun capable of propelling a steel dart at the speed of a bullet. It's all part of the world's only professional Blow Gun act, a feature attraction at the Edmonton Boat, Trailer and Sport Show, March 9-13, at the Exhibition Grounds. The act is an exciting demonstration of daring and uncanny accuracy.

Blowgun act featured at Boat Show

Pat Shawn and the Nile-O-Zons bring their spine-tingling professional blow-gun act to the Edmonton Boat, Trailer and Sport Show, March 9 thru 13 at the Exhibition Grounds.

The group has adapted the primitive art of blowgun shooting--as done by the headhunters of the East Indies and by the Amazon Indians--into an exciting demonstration of daring and uncanny accuracy.

Shawn uses a five foot long Blowgun, a half-inch in diameter, made of steel with a cork mouthpiece. He is able to propel a dart from the gun at 600 feet per second--close to the velocity of a .22 calibre rifle.

The eight inch long darts are made of stainless steel with a "handle" of cedar wood and a band of foam which provides a compression seal when the dart is in the tube of the gun.

Pat Shawn and the Nile-O-Zons have been featured on numerous television shows including The Mike Douglas Show, The Merv Griffin Show and the Dinah Shore Show.

The team goes through about 80 darts during a performance.

The Edmonton Boat and Trailer show, to be held in both the Coliseum and the Gardens, will be open to the public from 6 to 10:30 p.m., Wednesday and Thursday; 1 to 10:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday; and from 1 to 6 p.m. on closing day.

Talented bird actor coming to Boat Show

The feathered actor on the "Baretta" television series, Fred the Cockatoo, will be appearing at the Edmonton Boat, Trailer and Sport Show March 9 thru 13 at the Exhibition Grounds.

Fred is part of an All-star Tropical Bird Show, featuring birds trained at Universal Studios.

His trainer, Bob Greenwood, says Fred is "very intelligent. He's an exceptional cockatoo. He learns a behavior pattern in 10 minutes that takes most birds four or five days to learn."

Fred has won a Patsy Award, the animal equivalent of an Emmy, for his television acting. He appears regularly with Robert Blake, who plays "Baretta," answering a telephone, taking part in meals and sneaking drinks.

In a recent show, he helped the injured Baretta by hopping to the sink, dipping a sponge in water and flying to Baretta's bedside and placing the sponge on a black eye.

Not all of Fred's tricks are learned in his training sessions, Greenwood adds. A laugh and a cough, both close to sounding human, he learned on his own.

Greenwood says Fred became a star on "Baretta" by accident: "The producers called and told us they wanted a myna bird. They told us to bring along a few others, so we brought Fred," he explains.

"He just jumped right up on Blake's hand and started clowning around. That was enough to convince the producers that he was the right bird for the show."

Fred's acting future looks bright. He'll stay as Baretta's sidekick as long as the show runs. And he doesn't have to worry about getting old. Right now, he's eight years old and cockatoos live to be 60.

The Boat Show will be open from 6 to 10:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday; 1 to 10:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and from 1 to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Mother Tucker's Food Experience truly an epicurean delight

By Jeanne Jamison

If there is one thing that Edmonton has lots of, it's the 'steak, seafood and salad bar type of restaurant, and so it was with some trepidation that I entertained thoughts of dining at what I perceived to be another of this genre. I am very pleased to report, that although the spot in question did fit into this category, it did so in such a way as to present an individuality and atmosphere which set it apart from the others.

If you haven't yet visited Mother Tucker's Food Experience, you're missing out on one of life's little pleasures. Its unpretentious, comfortable 'homestead' decor sets the mood for an enjoyable meal. Tiffany lamps, old-fashioned area rugs and weathered barn boards provide a cozy, warm feeling which is accentuated by the attentive and prompt service.

The four-page 'newspaper' menu depicts the history of The Metals Building, the warehouse which now contains Mother Tucker's, as well as the goings-on during 1927, the year in which the building was erected.

The appeal of Mother Tucker's Food Experience was the simple, home-style fare - baked chicken, prime ribs of beef, shrimp, steaks, trout and salmon, each accompanied by fresh baked bread, and a choice of potatoes and vegetables.

First in the order of courses was the trip to the salad bar, which most diners are well acquainted with. Mother Tucker's is a little different however. In addition to the usual variety of tossed salads and cold vegetables, there is a wide selection of cheeses, crackers, fruit, cold meats, and an excellent potato salad.

The 'Special' among the entrees was the prime rib of beef, which my dining partner chose. He was escorted to the 'Beef Display' where he not only selected the cut of his choice but was also offered baked ham, and ribs. I chose the poached salmon steak which was nicely served, but a little on the dry side.

The dinner was completed with the only dessert offered at Mother Tucker's - apple pie. My first inclination was to decline, since it didn't appeal to me visually. In the light of the restaurant the apples appeared green. But, after tasting the sweet, I have to admit that my eye was tricked. The House speciality lived up to its reputation.

To accompany the meal there is a brief, but adequate wine list, with choices which complimented the 'down-home' atmosphere of the entire meal. The house wine, Donini, was moderately priced by the carafe.

Mother Tucker's also suggested that diners warm their tummies with 'Mother's Nightcap,' a special after-dinner drink. Again the simplicity of the concoction did provide a satisfying finale to a fine meal.

In addition to providing good food in a comfortable environment, Mother Tucker's also attempts to keep its prices reasonable. Dinner for two, with a carafe of wine and an after dinner beverage ran about $20.00, a price which is not to be sneezed at in today's world of rampant inflation.

A hint to those who prefer late dining - Mother Tucker's do not take reservations. Be prepared for at least a half-hour wait, on your feet, I might add, unless you arrive when the doors open.

Local musicians nominated for Juno award

"The Emeralds" has been nominated as possible recipients for this year's top Canadian music award, the "Juno," which will be presented in Toronto March 16, 1977, in the category of Country Group of the Year.

"The Emeralds" organization was established in Edmonton, Alberta in 1970. In addition to playing for a magnitude of social functions in the Edmonton area, "The Emeralds" also performed at The World's Fair in Spokane, Washington in 1974. They appeared as guests on the Herb Jepko Nitecap Show in Salt Lake City, Utah. "The Emeralds" were featured on the CBC production, "Edmonton Scene," and have performed on both the ITV United Way and the CFRN A.C.T. Teleramas for the past two years. Currently, "The Emeralds" are scheduled to appear on the CFRN-TV produced show "Spotlight." A European tour in August is also being finalized.

To date, "The Emeralds" have recorded five albums and three singles, two of which have been released in both Canada and the USA, and are currently completing their fourth single and sixth album for immediate release.

Allan E. Broder is the leader and manager of the quintet group, plays tenor saxaphone and sings harmony. Dave Hnatiuk vocalises and plays lead and rhythm guitar. Al Oswald plays the cordovox and also vocalizes. Wallis Petruk plays tenor saxaphone, clarinet, flute, violin and trumpet. Don Remeika, the drummer, provides the "right" beat to "The Emeralds" music.

"The Emeralds" play music designed and arranged to please a wide cross-section of the public. They enjoy good "down-home" type of music, and the enthusiasm they generate has no problem in being transmitted to their audience.

Playwright's colony at the Banff Centre

Sharon Pollock, well known Canadian playwright, has been appointed to head the 1977 Playwright's Colony at The Banff Centre School of Fine Arts, it was announced recently by Neil Armstrong, associate director of the Banff Centre.

The Colony, which focuses on the development of Canadian writers for the stage, will invite six Canadian playwrights to be in residence for a six week period July 3 - August 12, 1977. Four of these will be new playwrights who have demonstrated talent but whose work is in need of the kind of intensive development process this colony is able to provide. Artistic directors, established playwrights and other professionals of the Canadian theatre will be asked to nominate candidates for these places in the program. Two well established Canadian playwrights such as Mr. Hendry will be invited to be in residence. They will have the opportunity to continue the development of a work in progress using the facilities of the Colony. They will also provide a valuable resource for the less experienced writers.

Sponsored by the Banff Centre, the Colony has received substantial assistance from the Canada Council, the Bronfman Foundation, Wintario, the Playwrights Co-op, Alberta Culture and the B.C. Cultural Fund. Twenty-six Canadian playwrights have participated in the Colony since 1974 and a significant number of plays written and developed through the Colony process have been produced professionally in Canada and the United States and have found their way into the Canadian theatre repertoire.

Further information may be obtained from the Registrar, Banff Centre School of Fine Arts, Banff, Alberta, TOL OCO (403) 762-3391.

Drama Dept. announces audition tour

The drama department of the University of Alberta, Edmonton announces a Canada-wide audition tour to all major centres in May, to select students for its professional theatre training program leading to a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in either acting or design.

Alberta is fortunate to have the leading University Drama School in Canada. With the recent increase in professional theatre in the province, especially in Edmonton, local companies are seeking more trained performers, many of whom are graduates from our program. Other University of Alberta Alumni are working in professional theatres right across the country.

The university offers courses leading to both a bachelor's and master's degree in Fine Arts, and was the first in Canada to offer such courses. The new Fine Arts Centre includes an experimental production laboratory and a Thrust Theatre which provide highly adaptable settings for acting and directing projects. Student productions at the Studio Theatre have, for over 27 years, maintained a consistently high standard of which the university and patrons are justifiably proud.

Information concerning the programs, auditions and admission requirements, may be obtained by writing to: The Chairman, Department of Drama, The University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta. T6G 2C9.

As It Happened by Barbara Frum. Stimulating insights and interviews on today's major events by Canada's foremost radio personality, the hostess of CBC's As It Happens. Her reflections on and conversations with the famous, the powerful and the obscure are refreshing, witty, funny and thought-provoking.

Canada North Now: The Great Betrayal by Farley Mowat. Newly enlarged and updated, Mowat's Canada North is now an uncompromising, angry attack on industry's and government's rape of the Arctic, adding a 10-year record of betrayal, contrasting the remaining natural grandeur with the advancing destruction that must be stopped.

Farthing's Fortunes by Richard B. Wright. In this big, sprawling, bawdy, funny, entertaining novel, 95 year old Bill Farthing looks back on a lifetime packed with adventure. In Toronto in the 1890's the Klondike, Edwardian London, the Battle of the Somme and the hoboe's camps of the 30's, Bill and irrepressible conman, Findlater, try unsuccessfully but hilariously to beat the game of life.

Seeds of Man by Woody Guthrie. In the early 1930's Woody Guthrie, his father and two Kinsmen drove an Old Model T truck 600 miles to the Big Bend of the Rio Grande. There on the Mexican border they hoped to relocate a rich vein of silver and gold ore discovered years earlier by Woody's pioneer grandfather. On this experience which impressed him deeply, Seeds of Man is based.

Separation by Richard Rohmer. The thrilling sequel to the best-selling Exodus: U.K. is packed with international intrigue, high-level politics and shattering tension: upheavel in Britain, assassination in the mid-East and Quebec in the throes of separation.

The Seventh Hexagram by Ian McLachlan. Against the background of a Hong Kong gripped by fear of revolution, Ian McLachlan has constructed an intricate story, switching in time back to the events of Mao's Long March and in place to the snow covered reaches of Northern Ontario. Part detective story, part love story, part probing character study, this is a novel of extraordinary richness and suspense.

La Technique by Jacques Pepin. Here is an unrivaled practical guide to the fundamental techniques of cooking, a master chef's superb compendium of the basic culinary skill that will allow any cook to execute any recipe, time and time again.

The basketball program for girls 8 - 12 years is going full swing in four area school gyms every Saturday morning. Following a few practice sessions the players were formed into teams by the Knights of Columbus organizers, and despite the sometimes lopsided scores the girls all get to play equal time each week and are having fun learning new sport skills.

Water Year Book released

The 1976 Water Year Book on freshwater resources in Canada has just been released by the Department of Fisheries and the Environment.

This new edition updates information on water use, water research and other topics covered in the first book, but otherwise it covers a variety of new subjects, several of which concentrate on demonstrating that flexible, multi-purpose planning is necessary if a given quantity of water is to satisfy a wide range of uses.

Canada's participation in the forthcoming United Nations Water Conference, which will be held March 14 to 25, 1977, at Mar del Plata, Argentina, is featured in the new Year Book.

In 1974, some 1,070 gallons of fresh water per person per day were used in Canada for public supply, industrial use and agriculture. The Year Book provides a breakdown of this type of water statistic and considerable detail on six recently completed water resource studies.

Flood control is an important aspect of water management; the Year Book devotes a chapter to a survey of possible adjustments to the flood problem, including flood risk mapping, flood warning and forecasting, land-use zoning and flood proofing of structures.

Local couple exchange vows

It was a beautiful double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Len Musto, St. Albert United Church, which united Shirley Annette LeMoignan and Larry Gordon Rindero on September 4. The afternoon sun streamed through the windows as Shirley and Larry exchanged vows before an altar banked with floral arrangements of peach coloured roses and daisies.

Entering the church with her eldest brother, Lloyd LeMoignan, Shirley looked lovely in her white jersey gown which featured a stand-up collar, sheer neckline insert adorned with seed pearls. Her cathedral length veil was held in place with a Juliette cap, also trimmed with seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was made up of Sonia roses and baby's breath. Shirley's only jewellery a gold charm bracelet, was a gift from Larry.

Attending the bride were Sandra Winquist, maid of honour, Susan Howard, Joanne Johner and Hope Biggs. The bridesmaids all wore matching pale peach gowns, and carried bouquets of daisies and peach-tipped carnations.

Attending the groom were Wayne Biggs, best man, Bob Carlson, Mel Knutson and Steven Hughes. The men all wore dark brown tuxedos, with matching brown velvet vests, bow ties and ruffled shirts.

Following the ceremony a reception and dance was held at the Club Mocombo for about 200 guests. The head table was centered with a beautiful four-tier wedding cake. Peach flowers and candles encircled the cake, swirling from the bottom to the top.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wagner chose a deep rose floor length jersey gown with matching jacket. Her corsage of white roses tipped with deep pink completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Rindero wore a floor length gown of peach floral jersey featuring butterfly sleeves. A corsage of white roses added the finishing touch to her outfit.

Master of ceremonies, Robert LeMoignan kept the dinner program lively and entertaining. Best man Wayne Biggs made the toast to the bride.

Shirley and Larry honeymooned in British Columbia for two weeks before returning to Edmonton. The couple are now living in St. Albert.

St. Albert athletes bring home gold, silver medals

For most of us, the Olympic Games have been a fond memory, to be renewed only at the 1980 games in Moscow. However the triumphant return home of two St. Albert athletes this week reminds us that the next Olympic meet is only four years off, and our athletes are training and competing intensely toward that day.

Nineteen year old Sue Bell and Sean Kehoe, aged 18, competed this weekend in the Canadian Indoor Track and Field Championships held in the magnificent Claude Robillard Centre which was the site for the handball and water polo competitions in the Montreal Olympics.

Sean, of 32 Salisbury Avenue and Susan, 38 Broadview Crescent, gave their best performances in the relay events, although both entered individual events. Sean competed in the 50 metre individual event, and Susan in the 200 and 400 metre individual events, but both failed to qualify against a field of tough competitors.

Victory was at hand, however, in the relays. Susan won two medals running for the crack invitational Prairie Golden Canadian team. In the national championship 4x400 metre event, she handed off to pentathlon star Diane Jones, and the team won the event in 3:59.6 minutes, for a gold medal. In the 4x200 metre event, Susan and the team won the silver in 1:43.0 minutes.

SET CANADIAN RECORD

In the 4x200 metre men's relay event, Sean Kehoe and the team had victory well in hand as they took home the gold and created a new Canadian record.

Both athletes approached the meet in a positive frame of mind, having performed in outstanding fashion in the Test Meet the weekend before at the Kinsmen Fieldhouse.

Sean registered a fine victory in the 50 metre sprint over reigning Canadian Indoor Long Jump Champion Barry Boyd, another Edmonton Olympic Club member.

Sue took first place in the individual 400 metres and anchored her club to victory in both the 4x200 metre and 4x400 metre relays.

There was tremendous incentive for both to register outstanding performances in Montreal as the meet was used for selecting the Canadian team to compete against the U.S.A. and U.S.S.R., the following weekend in Toronto.

Sue Bell in action last weekend in the Test Meet at Kinsmen Field House, demonstrates the fine form and power which last year won her a bronze medal in the Canadian Indoor Track and Field Championships.

St. Albert gets shafted in Juvenile standings

By Larry Mitchell

One of the best shaftings that I have ever seen in all the years I have been involved in sports (30) occurred recently with the releasing of the final placings of the Hi-way 14 Juvenile Hockey League.

The St. Albert Truckers piled up a record of 18 wins and six losses and two ties in the 26 league games played with four left to play in the 30-game schedule. Two of those games were to be played in Leduc and two were home games with Sherwood Park and Stony Plain.

All games were those that had been cancelled during the regular season for a number of reasons and all were supposed to have been replayed at a later date.

Unknown to the league governor and any other league member, the statistician who is also on the executive, took it upon herself to give St. Albert four losses because we did not complete our games regardless of circumstances.

Those four defeats left St. Albert one point behind Leduc who got credit for their two games not played with us and as well their goaltender was credited with two shutouts and the captain two goals that neither of them earned in anyway shape or form. I just hope when the

Calahoo wins oldtimer's tournament

Calahoo Scorpions won the St. Albert Kinsmen Club Oldtimer's hockey tournament over the weekend but the real winners turned out to be Cystic Fibrosis as they were presented with a cheque for $333.94.

Scorpions scored a 11-5 win over the St. Albert Warlords in the final game and both teams turned over their winnings of $75 to Cystic Fibrosis. The Alexander Band also donated a cheque in the amount of $25.00.

Five games were played in the tournament and the fans that showed up were treated to some good hockey as a lot of the players still have some good moves.

Warlords upset Alexander Braves 11-3 in the opening game Saturday with Bob Thorpe scoring five goals. The second game saw Leduc score an easy 10-1 win over Legal as Ron Guiltner also scored five times.

The final game of the day was by far the best of the tournament as Calahoo came from behind a two goal deficit and went on to win an exciting 5-4 win over the St. Albert Rejects. Gary Checknita led the Scorpions with a pair of goals as did Len Haley for the Rejects.

Following Saturday's action a draw was held to see who would get a bye into the final and the Warlords came up lucky.

The semi-final game played Sunday morning was no contest as Calahoo dominated the game and came up with a 12-3 win over Leduc. Pete Golko and Phil McCargar each scored three times to lead the way.

The final game saw the Scorpions jump into an early 4-0 lead only to have the Warlords score two quick goals to get back in the game. Scorpions added three more before the period ended and it was just too much for the Warlords to make up. Phil McCargar, Dan Flemming and Rod Letain each scored three goals to lead Calahoo while Al Laplante and John Arnot had a pair each for the losers.

Following the game a number of trophies were presented. Norm Yellowlees from the Warlords was the oldest player at 46, Gary Checknita from Calahoo was the top defenceman and Dan Flemming from Calahoo was the top forward. Warlords Al Edwards was the top goaltender.

Roger Berube, captain of the Scorpions was presented the beautiful Oldtimer's Trophy and a cheque for $50 which he turned back to the Kinsmen Club of St. Albert to go towards their Cystic Fibrosis fund. Norm Tate on behalf of the Warlords also turned his team's second play money of $25 back to Cystic Fibrosis.

The referees, Dean Hunt, Brian Nixon, John Prusak, Don Hopkins, Stan Horbachewski and Dennis Kerr all donated their time and all did an outstanding job. Who says referees aren't nice guys?

The Kinsmen Club will now make this an annual event and they would like to thank the Hudson Bay Co., Carling O'Keefe Breweries, Inland Cement, Ramsay Foods, St. Albert Sportshop, Tony Holden and Ernie Cunningham as well as the hard working Kinettes.

Minor hockey trophies

The Kinsmen minor hockey season is rapidly coming to a close with the finals of all divisions set for March 27.

There still are a number of annual trophies for league and individual play that have not been turned in yet and if you have one please drop it off at the St. Albert Sportshop on Perron Street as soon as possible so that it may be given out again this season.

Action was fast and furious in the first annual St. Albert Kinsmen Club's Cystic Fibrosis oldtimers hockey tournament during the past weekend. Al Edwards of the St. Albert Warlords has just made a great save off the stick of Alexander Braves' Martin Arcand [12]. Calahoo Scorpions defeated the Warlords 11-5 in the final game to win the six-team tournament.

Paul Kane still looking

Paul Kane Junior High teams are still looking for their first wins of the season. The junior high was set up because of overcrowding at the other junior highs in St. Albert. They have a very small enrollment, about 60 boys and about 60 girls. Also practice time is difficult to arrange around the senior high teams. New teams, teachers and school have all made life miserable for the new school.

Last week in boy's action, Maloney defeated Paul Kane 48-34 and Simpson also defeated Paul Kane 78-17. In other boy's games, Lorne Akins lost 58-28 to Simpson and 40 to 29 to Maloney.

In girl's action Paul Kane lost 34-8 to Maloney and 20-13 to Simpson. Lorne Akins had a good week defeating Simpson 26-22 and taking first place by defeating Maloney 30 to 16.

SIMPSON, ST. CECILIA TO CLASH

Two of Edmonton and areas top basketball clubs will meet at Simpson gym, Friday, March 4 at 7:30 p.m. The two teams have both had good seasons to date. Simpson beat Cecilia 49-47, and Cecilia defeated Simpson 50-30 at their home court. The game was arranged because so many fans requested a rematch to see this exciting action. Special seating will be arranged to accommodate many more fans. See you Friday.

player stats are released that the winners are not as a result of this.

In any event the playoffs have now been set and St Albert will meet Sherwood Park in a best of three series and Leduc will meet Stony Plain in the other set. St. Albert has not played any games to date although Stony Plain clobbered Leduc in their opening game 7-2 with the second game slated for Stony Plain Friday night.

In provincial playoffs St. Albert Truckers will meet Stony Plain in a two-game series with the first game to be played in Stony Plain. The hold up is due to Stony Plain having only one goaltender signed and are required to have two dressed for each game. The zone chairman is now trying to line up a registered goaltender for Stony to use.

The winner of this series will represent Zone 3 in the provincials later in Red Deer.

Generals end league play on winning note

Standard Generals upset Wainwright Bisons 4-3 in overtime Saturday night to complete their regular season schedule on a winning note.

Generals finished the 40-game schedule with a record of 23 wins and 17 losses for 46 points in the nine-team Alberta Junior "B" hockey league.

As a result of losing four of their last five games, the team dropped from second place in the total league standings down to fifth behind Lloydminster Border Blazers, Wainwright, Vermilion Tigers and Barrhead Jr. Elks.

St. Albert had spent most of the year in second place but their late season slump proved costly as they also dropped into second place in the west division behind Barrhead who came on strong in the last month.

Generals record last year in their first season of Junior "B" play was 25 wins and 14 losses and a tie. losses and a tie.

This season the Generals had wins over every club except Lloydminster who they lost to four times, the same as last year.

Generals won 10 of 18 games with the western clubs, Edson (4) Hinton (4) and Barrhead (2) while their record against the east was a little better as they came up with 13 wins, Vegreville (4) Wainwright (3) St. Paul (5) and Vermilion (1). Generals scored 225 goals while allowing 203.

The team will now take on Hinton Northwest Cardinals in a best of seven semi-final series for the west while Barrhead and Edson Arrows will hook up in the other series. The eastern playoffs will see Lloydminster meet Vermilion while the other series has Wainwright going against St. Paul.

Hinton will be in St. Albert for the first two games on Tuesday, March 1 and Thursday March 3 (7:30 p.m.). The series will then shift to Hinton for the next to games which will be this Saturday and Sunday. Saturday's game will be a 8:30 and Sunday's will start at 2:30.

Should the remaining games be necessary they will be played in St. Albert, Tuesday, March 8 (8:30), Thursday, March 10 in Hinton and Sunday, March 13 in St. Albert.

The winner of this series will play the winner of the Barrhead-Edson series for the west division championship and then take on the east winner for the overall championship.

Generals have beaten Hinton four of six games played this season and have outscored Hinton 38 goals to 27.

The team's overtime win with Wainwright was a very exciting game that had the fans on the edge of their seats throughout the game. Wainwright opened the scoring at 15.16 of the first period on a goal by the league's leading scorer Gerry Foley. Generals tied it up less than a minute later on a goal by Roger Meunier. With only two seconds left in the period Bill Hall scored to make it 2-1 for Wainwright.

Wainwright went ahead 3-1 late in the second period on a goal by Bob Kelly and appeared to be pulling away from the Generals. St. Albert came up with a pair of unanswered third period goals as Richard St. Martin scored at the 3.52 mark and Captain Matt Lister's goal at the 10 minute mark gave Generals a 3-3 tie. Both clubs received some excellent goaltending throughout the game especially in the last 10 minutes of the game with the score tied.

With only 4.14 of sudden death overtime St. Albert's Randy Patrick beat Richard Ostrow in the Wainwright net to give St. Albert a 4-3 win.

The game was very cleanly played with only seven minor penalties being called. Wainwright outshot St. Albert 39 to 36.

Comets face busy playoff schedule

The wacky world of league and provincial playoff hockey has hit the St. Albert Comets in full force this week as they find themselves having to play two different series in three days.

Comets will be in Stony Plain Thursday night to play the Eagles in the opening game of a two-game total goal series for provincial "B" play, then move into St Albert Friday night for their first game in a best of five series with Camrose in Alberta Major Intermediate hockey league playoffs and then host the Eagles Sunday night in the second game of the provincials.

It seems there is no problem on getting a man to the moon these days but for some unknown reason the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association always have problems scheduling their playoffs at this time of year, so that they don't conflict with league playoffs.

RICHIE PERRAULT

St. Albert completed their regular season schedule Sunday night with a 13-5 win over Stony Plain Eagles and also won by default Saturday night over Sherwood Park when they failed to show for their game with the Comets.

Comets record for the season was an excellent one as they won 27 of 32 games and finished in first place with a league leading 54 points, well ahead of second place Sherwood Park. Edmonton Bruins finished in third and Stony Plain nailed down fourth spot. The remaining two playoff positions went to Enoch and Camrose Maroons.

St. Albert will now meet Camrose in a best of five series Friday night in St. Albert. The winner will get a bye into the league final. Sherwood Park will meet Enoch in a best of five semi final series with Edmonton Bruins and Stony Plain meeting in the other. The two winners will then meet with the winner playing St. Albert or Camrose.

Comets have won three or four league games with the Camrose squad this season and have outscored them 19 to 13.

Final league stats were not available at press time although they should be ready for next week's issue.

Sunday's game with the Eagles saw the Comets score eight, third period goals to take an easy 13-5 win.

Dave Vinge led Comets with three goals while Brian Stevens, Bob Foote and Brian George added a pair each. Rich Perrault had an eight point night with a goal and seven assists.

K of C Sabres to advance to finals

The St. Albert Knights of Columbus Sabres have worked their way into the playoff finals of the Central Alberta Bantam League. The Sabres have been stricken with injuries and illness and certainly hope to recuperate before continuing in both league playoffs and provincial playdowns.

This past weekend the Sabres eliminated the Camrose Bulldogs and ended their best of three series at two games.

Playing at home Friday evening the Sabres whipped the Bulldogs 9-2. The game was very entertaining and remained scoreless for the first period. Scott Holliday started the Sabres scoring spree early in the second period with Troy Murray assisting.

St. Albert dominated the remainder of the game and led 5-1 at the end of the second period on goals by Ross McRae (unassisted); Gary Kunz, assisted by Troy Murray; Shane Antoniuk, assisted by Troy Murray; and Keith Heyburn, assisted by both Troy Murray and Sonny Gramlich.

In the third period, Heyburn scored with Gramlich and Sabourin assisting, and Kunz with Murray and Lavallee assisting. These were their second goals of the game for Heyburn and Kunz with newcomer Dale Weller bagging his first ever. Forward Kenny Myck rounded out the scoring.

On Saturday in Camrose the Sabres foolishly anticipated an easy victory and in their over confidence fell behind 3-0. Troy Murray notched the Sabres first goal with Sonny Gramlich assisting. Six seconds later Keith Heyburn gave the Sabres new life on their second goal with Gramlich and Ken Myck assisting. Camrose got an easy goal and Sabres coach Maurice Chabot pulled starting goalie Ben Chabot and put in Kevin Pennington. Pennington shut the doors on Camrose.

During the remainder of the game, Gary Kunz scored a beautiful goal to put the Sabres within one point of Camrose. Once again within six seconds St. Albert scored to tie the game. Ken Myck scored this goal with Troy Murray assisting. The Sabres took the lead later in the second period on a goal by Heyburn with Cameron Swist and Scott Holliday assisting. Shane Antoniuk gave the Sabres a two goal lead midway in the third period with Cameron Swist picking up his second assist of the game. Troy Murray rounded out the scoring on a goal set up by Keith Heyburn and Sonny Gramlich.

The Sabres next action will be Provincial play with the rough and tough Leduc squad providing the opposition in the home and home two game total point series.

Mike Basaraba named umpire-in-chief

Mike Basaraba, popular and active member of the St. Albert Minor League Baseball Association for the past number of years has been appointed Umpire-in-Chief for the 1977 baseball season.

The success of any baseball organization is largely dependent upon the experience and organizational abilities of its umpire-in-chief and Mike Basaraba is very highly regarded in St. Albert baseball circles in both of these areas.

Umpire training, schools, recruitment supervision and game appointments are only a few of the many duties accepted by the incumbent.

Anyone with or without previous experience interested in umpiring during the 1977 baseball year are encouraged to contact Mike at 458-0468.

The St. Albert Minor League Baseball season opens on April 30, 1977 with an "Opening Day" parade scheduled to commence at 10 a.m.

Nu-West Canadians clear first hurdle

St. Albert Nu-West Canadian Peewee BBs met Spruce Grove at home and away last week in the first round of Provincial playoffs and emerged victorious by scoring 15 goals to Spruce Grove's eight in a two-game best goal series.

NU-WEST 6 - SPRUCE GROVE 1

The first game in the Grove on Tuesday evening wound up in favour of Nu-West as they coasted to a 6-1 victory with Billy Huot carrying a hot hand between the pipes for St. Albert. Huot's acrobatics and excellent crease work frustrated the Grove attackers consistently and kept them from gaining ground and narrowing the gap in the goal department.

Mitch Poulin and Aaron Banks led the way for Nu-West with two goals and an assist apiece. Billy Shaughnessy and Blaine Weller were the other marksmen while Jim Osatiuk scored the lone Grove counter. Miles (Tack) Spencer, Dean Clark, Brad Burns, John Holden and Weller each drew an assist for the winners.

NU-WEST 9 - SPRUCE GROVE 7

Spruce Grove visited the St. Albert Arena on Saturday, February 26 and managed to make things a little uneasy for the Nu-West Canadian Peewee BBs before dropping a close 9-7 decision.

Although 16 goals were scored throughout the contest the game provided many exciting moments and good plays. Billy Havens went all the way in goal for Nu-West and came up with some absolutely remarkable saves to preserve the win.

Three point efforts for Nu-West went to Billy Shaughnessy with two goals and an assist, Dean Clark, Brad Burns and Aaron Banks with a goal and two assists each while Geordie Filipchuk was the playmaker of the day with three assists. Two points went to John Holden with two goals and Danny (Boom Boom) Holliday notched a goal and an assist. Mitch Poulin who turned in another fine game found the target once and Ashley Sage was credited with an assist.

Deepak Katyal led the Grove contingent once again with two goals while singles went to Jim Osatiuk, Dean Sage, Bob Hazelamp, Kevin Smalridge and Craig Goebel.

Five penalties were handed out to the visitors while Nu-West served three. The visitors were outshot 34-29.

Nu-West now advance in the Provincial playdowns and travel to Hinton, Alberta, Saturday, March 5. Hinton will return the visit the following day for the final game in another two game best goal series.

Capacity crowd attends opening of hall addition

A capacity crowd of about 400 attended the celebration and dance at Villeneuve Hall on Saturday evening to mark the official opening of the addition which doubled the space of the hall from 3,000 to 6,000 square feet.

Gilbert Soetaert of the Villeneuve Athletic Association which built the original hall and the new addition, was master of ceremonies. He called on Ernie Jamison, MLA who congratulated the Association and the people of the Villeneuve area on the excellence of their facility, and the hard work they themselves had put into it. Reeve Bill Flynn was also asked to speak and he had praise for the manner in which the project was handled. The municipality knows the amount of work done by the local people, including new people coming into the district on acreages, said Mr. Flynn, and we appreciate also the sound management of the Villeneuve Athletic Association.

The MD council was well represented and Mr. Soetaert introduced Councillors Clay Crozier, Hubert Lamoureux, Walter Van de Walle and Lawrence Kluthe. Councillor Glen Berry was in hospital at the Misericordia and Walter Jerram was unable to be present. School board chairman, John McDonell was also introduced.

Mr. Soetaert reviewed the project and spoke warmly of the tremendous help the Athletic Association had received, with a good portion of the labour being donated by established residents and newcomers to the district. He singled out the effort by Chris Meunier of Morinville, a private building contractor who took the time to supervise the construction. The crowd gave Chris a tremendous standing ovation.

A new floor was put in throughout the building and the hall now has one of the finest dancing floors in the MD area. With the Satellites on the bandstand it was out to excellent use. At one point Danny Boisvert of St. Albert joined the band with his fiddle to the delight of the crowd.

On the basis of 60% labour and 40% material it is estimated the addition would be valued at $100,000. Without the volunteer labour it would have been impossible. The Association was assisted in providing materials by a Provincial grant of $31,532 which came via the Sturgeon Regional Council, with the required approval of the MD council. The Association had the extra land required but due to not too solid ground it had to be supported with concrete grade beams on cement piling.

Except for one window in the kitchen, the building is windowless but has a good exhaust fan system with baffled intakes for getting air into the hall. Wiring is in for a future public address system. To keep the hall operating and for money-raising functions the Association has arranged rotating groups who volunteer their services once a year or more. The hall also includes an upstairs area at one end which is used for storage.

Looking ahead, now that the hall extension is completed, Mr. Soetaert said the Association would be planning to rebuild the ice rink, now 28 years old, and to complete dressing rooms at the back of the hall. There are also four ball diamonds at the back of the hall to keep up.

Red Barn dances raise $3,271 to aid service

The Red Barn dance in support of the Bon Accord-Gibbons ambulance service raised a total of $3,271 Friday evening. The funds were presented at a short ceremony by Bill Cochrane and Walter Jerram, principals of the Red Barn who made the facility available at no charge, in the form of a cheque for $3,271 plus $40 donated by the hat check girls. All the staff, who also donated their services for the evening, were called out on the floor and received an enthusiastic applause.

Lynda Bland, chairman of the finance committee in charge of a drive for the ambulance, thanked Walter and Bill most warmly and asked all the volunteers who will operate the service to come on stage. These were Lea White, Pauline Groom, Cathy Hutton, Linda Fearnley, Julie Saunders, Bonnie Martin, R.N., Janice McDonald, Myrna Robert, R.N., Donna Popjes, R.N., Nigel Mansfield, superintendent, Marv Raines, Clarence Johnson, Keith Yuen-Jung, Gordon Moore, Floyd Bjerke and Don Martin, all of who were given a big hand by the large crowd.

$20,000 GOAL SHOULD BE REACHED

Four months ago the finance committee was formed and set themselves a goal of $20,000 to re-activate a volunteer ambulance service for the combined districts. A canvas of families and business people realized about $9,500. Two bottle drives added $1,000 and in November when J. Yuen-Jung was born, the family held a birthday and christening party, with a request that donations be given for an ambulance rather than gifts. $600 was turned over to the fund from this occasion.

The committee now has approximately $14,500 and are planning a white elephant auction in March. Sale of the old vehicle will also swell the total and it now seems certain that the goal of $20,000 will be reached, which will provide for a new van conversion type ambulance, with high roof, plus insurance, equipment and some working capital. Based on two years of past experience and considering growth, the service expects to handle about 100 calls per year. The new service will also have a mobile telephone, donated by Wes Spencer of Bon Accord.

The ambulance will be housed in the Gibbons Fire Hall.

VOLUNTEERS CONTINUE TRAINING

Volunteers all have a standard certificate from St. John Ambulance and they are taking advanced training to qualify for the provincial emergency care course such as the one offered at S.A.I.T. In addition the National Registry for Emergency Medical Technicians course in being self taught in Bon Accord at present. Recently the groups had instruction from paramedics from Grande Prairie and Calgary and they will write the exam this summer.

Superintendent Mansfield told the Gazette that the provincial EMT course when underway will raise the standards of all people in ambulance and rescue work, and Eric Rast will be the new director. The Bon Accord-Gibbons service plans to get five women into that program. Drivers have standard first aid training and the vehicle will be manned with a driver and one or two technicians, depending on the nature of the call. One qualified volunteer must always be left in the village, with a vehicle and additional help available, such as the Morinville service, to provide a back up service when the ambulance is out on call. The service does no transfer calls, which are handled by Smith Ambulance.

LOOKING AHEAD

In the future it is hoped that we can have firemen to help with rescue work, and that the MD Sturgeon will help with equipment for fire fighting and trapped victims. An ambulance cannot carry such equipment, but a fire engine can carry it and provide manpower. Nationally, said Mr. Mansfield the chance is less than 20 percent of a vehicle bursting into flames.

He also noted that the Cadillac limousine type ambulance was abandoned in 1976 in the United States, in favour of a modified delivery-type van. The new service will purchase one such as is used in Medicine

Artificial ice for Legal? Citizens discuss at meeting

By Connie Maurier

We mean business. Legal will get a new curling rink and artificial ice yet. Thursday evening, February 24, the Recreation Centre saw the largest show of interested people ever at a public meeting. Over 70 determined citizens joined to discuss the possibilities for artificial ice for both the existing arena and for a new curling rink.

Although the meeting had been originally set up to discuss the plans for a new hall, it was soon made apparent that the majority was there to cancel those plans and introduce the new plans for artificial ice and a new curling rink.

Omer Pelletier, recreation board president, introduced the guest, Mr. Jim Newman, assistant superintendent of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation. Rene Maurier was appointed chairman to preside over the meeting. The general feeling of all those present remains that unless we, the Legal citizens work together and finish first of all what was already started, which is making the present arena more useful before starting other projects, the village will suffer.

Prior to this meeting a group of concerned men formed a committee to take it upon themselves to make sure that the plans for a new curling rink and artificial ice be made first priority. The committee wrote a very well organized letter listing their proposed plans on artificial ice and the letter was read to all of us. After some intense discussions it was moved that this committee be made official immediately.

Seven men were then nominated and during a short recess their individual positions were determined. The members of the "New Curling Rink and Artificial Ice Committee" are: Claude Maurier, chairman; Brian Durstling, vice-chairman; Denis Nault, secretary-treasurer; Norman Douziech, Laurent Coulombe, Denis Limoges and Norman Rivard. These men were then given permission to go out and collect pledges, donations and even volunteer work and time. They have an immense responsibility and we should realize the work load they have so generously accepted. We have to remember it is a project for all of us and that we will all benefit from it.

Other discussions that took place at this meeting were that the arena's operations and maintenance be controlled in the future by its own board; that the constitutions and bylaws of the Recreation Centre be written and sent to all the Legal citizens; that a member from each different organization or club in Legal have a representative on the Recreation Board; that the present proposals for a new hall be postponed and that the plans to get artificial ice be given immediate attention.

What about it Legal? Can we do it? Lets get together and do anything we can to help see it through. When you are confronted with the important question "Will you give for this project?" please take time to understand what it's all about before you give an answer.

By - election held at Bon Accord

At a recent by-election here, 33% of eligible voters turned out on Tuesday, February 22 to cast their ballots for a councillor to fill the vacancy left by Archie Jenkins. George Grainger was the winning candidate with 103 of the 179 votes cast, while Geoff Milligan received 76 votes.

Now that the Village has a full council of five, a mayor will be elected by the council from among their own number at the next regular meeting to be held March 1st.

This council will then hold office until the next general election which will take place in October 1977.

Schellenberger wants amendment to payment law

He feels that the banks are uniquely suited to the administration of advance payments. Having dealt with farmers for a number of years, the major banks are well aware of the risks and constraints involved in agricultural production in Canada. The banks' successful handling of the government guaranteed farm improvement loans testifies to their competence in the field of arm lending.

The proposed amendment has not yet been put to a vote in the House of Commons.

Wetaskiwin MP Stan Schellenberger has proposed an amendment to Bill C-2, an Act to Facilitate the Making of Advance Payments for Crops. The bill provides for government guaranteed loans to farmers of storageable crops. The cash advances will enable the farmer to pay off his debts without having to sell all his produce immediately after harvesting it, putting the farmer in a better position to wait for a good price and then sell his produce.

The bill's provisions are similar to those of the Prairie Grain Advance Payments Act which provides cash advances to producers of cereal crops. While he endorses the intent of Bill C-2, Mr. Schellenberger feels that adoption of his amendment will allow for added flexibility in the administration of advance payments. At present the bill stipulates that the payments are to be administered by producer organizations.

However, in some areas of Canada, and for some products, there are no organizations set up to handle the administrative responsibility. The producers who find themselves in an area without an organization will not be entitled to the benefits of the legislation.

Mr. Schellenberger proposes that in circumstances such as these, banks should be allowed to administer the advance payments. By allowing the banks to perform this function, all Canadian farmers would be given equal opportunity to take advantage of the cash advances. The legislation would thus be more democratic, and a larger number of Canadian farmers could derive benefit from it.

Who is wearing the 'red faces' now?

Pertaining to an article written in the Sturgeon Gazette published on February 16, 1977, some "exasperated" council members went through a great deal of trouble over something they were well aware of in the first place.

PARAMEDIC REGIONAL SERVICE THOUGHT BEST

Mr. Mansfield would like to see one paramedic involved on a regional basis, including St. Albert, but has not made much progress with the idea thus far. He felt that in proportion to calls handled if St. Albert had a paramedic service a system of cost sharing could be worked out to provide an efficient regional system. One big pot, at say a dollar per capital, he felt might be the answer.

The finance committee will be meeting to work out a budget for the Bon Accord-Gibbons service and are looking into the possible advantages of leasing a vehicle. For providing equipment for the vehicle and personal equipment kits for volunteers of about $50 and the committee is hoping that possibly one annual drive could provide the funds. The service has a VHF Motorola radio with assigned frequency and a base station in Bon Accord. They also use the services of Citizen Band operators.

A few more volunteers available during the day would be a big help, just for daytime calls, said Mr. Mansfield, and we hope to be able to get women to add to our present volunteers, four of whom are nurses.

structed? There must have been some red faces elsewhere other than in Calahoo, when everything was found to be in order. Why wasn't THIS announced in the newspaper when it was discovered that these "red" faces had been wrongly accused?

Have we nothing better to do at council meetings but to slander this community?

The community of Calahoo has worked hard to achieve what they have.

Council members draw their income from the taxpayer. Is this an example of what the taxpayer gets in return for his hard-earned money?

Calahoo Arena - West Sturgeon Ag Society

A recent report in the Gazette concerning the above has been brought to my attention. I am somewhat disturbed over this, in view of the fact that I personally surveyed the site and attended to the layout of the arena.

The West Sturgeon Agricultural Society contacted myself, then with Diversified Survey Consultants, prior to any work being done on the site. We firstly proceeded with a grid survey to allow them to roughly grade the site, doing the legal survey of the lot and the building layout shortly thereafter.

The Gazebo was never intended to be included in the area surveyed out for the arena.

Our original application for the subdivision approval was for a slightly smaller parcel, an additional 30 feet being obtained later due to the northerly portion of the lot being unsuitable for the arena. This was approved by the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission and the Archdiocese. Copies of letters in this regard are enclosed.

I do not believe there is any problems with the arena being on the surveyed parcel, and would point out that the Agricultural Society proceeded in a proper manner, by having a Land Surveyor attend to the required surveys.

In this regard, I trust that any statements to the contrary can be retracted.

Thank you.

Over 130 people came to say goodbye and wish the Krauskopfs' all the best in their new home. They will be running the Mayfair store in Redwater. Art was a warden, as well as a very active member in the K of C's and in the community. Don, also was very active as a K of C member, and is well known around town. K of C cufflinks were given to Art and Don, while Jeannette received a bouquet of flowers. The Knights of Columbus and the Town of Morinville will certainly miss the Krauskopfs', and we wish them every success in their new home.

Congratulations are extended to the following students who have completed and graduated from the Alberta Safety Council Babysitting course in Morinville: Barbara Allan, Doug Allan, Eugene Barker, Tammy Bentz, Renee Boissonnault, Linda Brisson, Chris Campbell, Mary Ann Clarke, Kim Gowler, Pat Lodewijk, Marianne McGuire, Gisele Pomealeau, Brad West, Cindy Williams and Valerie Wood.

Morinville and District Board of Trade held their "Meet your Neighbor" night on February 26 at the Recreation Centre. Spot dance was won by Jean Langstaff and Bill Hollinger of Edmonton. Elimination dance went to Art and Don Lypka of Morinville, while the novelty dance was won by Gisele Jubinville and Garth Ritson. In spite of a small crowd everyone enjoyed the dance and lunch which was served later in the evening. It is doubtful if the Board will hold "Meet Your Neighbor" night next year, as the response has been poor. This is a real pity since this event is usually well received by new and old residents alike.

Congratulations to Vivian Blackburn, who took part in the tests at the Vegreville Figure Skating Club last Sunday. Vivian passed the Killian, a dance in the senior silver group, and will now be taking tests on her gold dances. Vivian is an instructor and a student of the Morinville Lions Figure Skating Club.

Marlin catch highlight of trip to Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Hormidas Boissonnault returned recently from a holiday in Hawaii with relatives Mrs. Anna Soetaert and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Soetaert and Mrs. Lorraine Way and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chalifoux from Edmonton.

Wonderful weather accompanied the group as they flew over all the islands. The clear conditions gave us the best of views, over Mauna Loa on the big island of Hawaii, the world's largest volcano; the Lava Desert, the cliffs, pineapples and sugar fields, the firepit in Kilauea and many more memories too numerous to mention. They visited the Sea Life Park, Pearl Harbour, Polynesian Cultural Centre, Paradise Park, and the cemetery where thousands of servicemen rest.

As the busy days passed they went deep sea fishing at Fisherman's Wharf in Oahu, where they stayed while in Hawaii and caught a big Marlin fish weighing 279 pounds and 10 feet in length. The catch took place 20 miles out on the ocean, at a depth of 2,500 feet and took 35 minutes to reel in. They gave the fish to the captain, to give to hungry natives. Lorraine had bruises and aches for several days. The happy gang is discussing a cruising trip in the near future.

Morinville sports

By Marg Bentz

Morinville Motors defeated Slave Lake Winter Hawks in convincing fashion last Saturday night, before a near capacity crowd, when they trounced the visiting club 7-1 to take the two game total point intermediate D provincial playoff, 13-7. Morinville also travelled to Westlock on February 22 where they edged the Eagles 5-3 in exhibition play.

Paul Houle started the Motor Men on to victory Saturday night scoring at 10.09 of the first frame, assisted by Al Bentz. Jack MacAskill assisted by Wayne Miller and John Balsillie and Carl Royan assisted by Terry Maslyk and O'Neil Chevalier rounded out the stanza to make it three to nothing for Morinville. Seniors then scored two per period in the remainder of the game, but had their shutout bid spoiled when Winter Hawk's Brian Womacks beat Bill Tieland, one and one half minutes into the third period. Roger Chalifoux assisted by Jack MacAskill, Wayne Miller assisted by Richard Wright, Marcel Tourangeau assisted by Rick Pugliese and John Shrum, and Dex Dersch rounded out Morinville's scoring in a game that saw seven separate players notch goals. This perhaps demonstrates why the Seniors have been so tought to contain this season.

Morinville Motors will now face Gibbons in second round Provincial play as well as open league semi finals against Legal Canadiens. The first game was played last night and the next is scheduled for Friday, March 4 here in Morinville.

"Still in Hockey" or "Will it never end" Morinville Goodtimers will host their annual tournament next weekend, Saturday and Sunday March 5 and 6 in conjunction with their annual Ball; an event that is very worthwhile taking in, as is the tournament itself. Goodtimers are self supporting and use their hockey antics to foster goodwill with surrounding communities. All their surplus is generously ceded to the Ag. Society at the end of each season and they are therefore a most worthy cause to support. As well as being worthy, they make it very easy and enjoyable to support them, where else can you take in a whole day of exciting, entertaining action for just one dollar? You can have an evening out, including a full course sit down supper, cocktail hour, and dance to Sweet Hush for 15 dollars. Incidently this price includes your date, need we say more? Contact Moe Touchette at 939-4401 or any other Goodtimer for tickets and game times. See you there!

MINOR HOCKEY

Morinville Mite B's played their last league game Saturday, February 26, defeating St. Albert Beavers 4-1, thereby cinching first place with a perfect record of all wins, no losses or ties. Casey Bentz picked up a pair of goals, while Jay Enright and Darrin Pezer added singles.

Morinville Peewee B trounced two St. Albert teams 7-0 and 9-1 last week. Brent Skjersven picked up the shutout while team-mates scored as follows: Rodney Rousseau, 6 goals; Mark Edwards, 2; Steven Schriver, 2; Keith Streeter, 2; Jim Turner, 2; Ken Chalifoux and Murray Johnson, 1 apiece.

Morinville Peewee A had a very busy week when they dumped Legal 9-1 Monday in their second league playoff game, earning them an appearance against Gibbons Green Saturday. They shut out the Greens 7-0 in league finals. Meanwhile, a tune-up game saw them drop Thorncliff of Edmonton 6-2 Wednesday evening. They wound up their week Sunday by humiliating Mayerthorpe 16 - 0 in Provincial zone playoffs, an act which propels them into Provincial finals against Bow Island, near Medicine Hat, sometime around March 10th.

Bantam A hosted Mayerthorpe Friday, February 25, in the first game of a two game total point Provincial playoff. The locals won 8-5 on Marty Hooper's hat trick and singles by Dan Blackburn, Brandon Wood, Rob Wojtkiw, Rodney Bland and Jamie Kryskow. The boys will complete the series next week in Mayerthorpe.

CURLING

Men's bonspiel will be held on March 11, 12 and 13. To enter a rink in either this bonspiel or the mixed bonspiel, which is being held on March 25, 26 and 27, phone Colleen Brisson at 939-4525.

The first annual St. Albert Kinsmen Club Cystic Fibrosis Oldtimers Hockey Tournament officially got underway Saturday afternoon in St. Albert with Gerry Rayburn dropping the puck between Martin Arcand [12] of Alexander and Norm Tate of the St. Albert Warlords. Referees John Prusak and Don Hopkins look on. The Kinsmen Club realized a net profit of $333.24 for Cystic Fibrosis.

Morinville parents participate in Education Week

Morinville parents will have a chance to participate in Education Week, which will be in progress from March 7-12. One of the events on the agenda will be a film and discussion night to be held at Georges P. Vanier High School in the Music Room on Thursday, March 10 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Dave Thomas, a psychologist and supervisor of Student Services in St. Albert will lead the discussion and show the film. The discussion will involve language development and how a parent can help it, encouragement, and how a parent can achieve this and the resolution of conflicts in the home, school or job.

Mr. Thomas is trained in the testing and helping of children with learning problems and his work encompasses each of the three discussion areas.

A special invitation is extended to parents of preschool children, as much of the discussion will aid in the preparation of young children for school.

Progress made on Morinville sewage lagoon

By Marg Bentz

Progress continues on a new sewage lagoon for the Town of Morinville, according to a report by Deputy-Mayor Quinn at a recent meeting of the town council February 22 and 23. Mr. Quinn announced that an option has been taken on a parcel of land, and the town's engineers have been authorized to test the site to determine its suitability.

It was further announced that council will meet as a Court of Revision on Tuesday, March 22 at 7 p.m., in the Council Chambers.

In other business, it was reported that a census will be taken in the town between April 1 and June 30. In addition, there was a report that the town is being recommended to the Alberta Housing Corporation for approximately six self-contained Senior Citizens units.

Under financial business, council approved the 1977 budget of the Sturgeon Regional Recreational Council.

The meeting then turned to a discussion by engineers of the construction of a 10-inch water line on Grandin Avenue to provide fire protection for Main Street.

A citizen advisory was issued during the meeting that papers are to either be burned or bundled and tied.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 8 at 8 p.m., at the Town Office.

Gibbons Bantams in zone 2 Provincial finals

The Gibbons Bantam hockey team has advanced to the Zone 2 finals in the Provincial playoffs. In the first round they defeated Athabasca 10-6 and 3-0, to meet Tofield in the semi-finals. On February 21 they won 5-3 and in the second game in Gibbons on February 23, they again defeated Tofield by a score of 5-2. They now meet the winner of the Two Hills-Viking series for the Zone final.

The team would like to thank all the parents and friends who have given them so much support, and to all the coaches who graciously gave up their ice time so the boys could complete their games. Don't let up, we still need your support!

WINTER CARNIVAL

On Sunday noon the Legal Winter Carnival was started with all the different performances from the figure skaters - beginners, preliminary, bronze and silver, gold, CFSA, learn to skate and power skating. A special feature was two guest figure skaters from the Morinville Skating Club.

These performances were followed by the Shaver B game with their mothers. It was a comical game with very peculiar referees giving very odd penalties. The final scores resulting were 8-5 for the lucky shavers.

Then the skate-a-thon took place as scheduled with proceeds given towards the insulating of the arena. The town folk then competed with the country folk playing broomball.

The carnival ended with a hockey game in the evening as Legal Oldtimers and Busby Oldtimers, resulting with a 4-4 tie.

During the course of the day, a bouquet of roses was presented to Carol Hutchinson in appreciation for coming down to Legal from Edmonton to teach the power skating and figure skating classes. This year was Carol's third year in Legal and we certainly are thankful for her devotion. The two guests skaters, Cynthia Robinson and Shauna Bland were each given a charm, a token of thanks for their performances.

Special thanks are extended to Richard de Champlain for accepting the role of M.C. and to Donna Lessard who not only taught a large group of learn to skate, but also worked very hard to organize this years carnival. A big thank you also for all the ladies and gentlemen who generously volunteered their help to make the day so successful.

BONSPIEL SUCCESSFUL

The Legal Mixed Bonspiel held last weekend provided a good time for all concerned. The Spiel was a little tough on the women because of the heavy ice, but everyone managed.

The Grand Challenge winners were the Ed Royan rink, consisting of Elsie Royan and Don and Marilyn Bruce. In second place came the rink consisting of Norm Rivard and Lorraine, Marlene Belley and Phillip Ruel. In third place came Pat Keane and Lorraine, and Al and Eileen Derrien, with Marcel Kremer and Lorraine, Real and Doreen Durocher taking fourth place.

Top place honours in the second event went to Buddy Love, Lucy Montpetit and Martin and Bernice Montpetit. In second place came Denis (Red) Pelletier and Rachelle, Dan and Sylvia Prefontaine. Lucien (Biz) Larose, Elaine Bilodeau, Norm Douziech and Marie Letourneau took third place and Bob Pelletier and Bonnie, Jean Pierre and Agnes Letourneau came fourth.

We want to thank everyone who entered and supported our bonspiel to make it a success.

Legal 4C - 4H News

By Diane Royan

February 14 was an exciting time for 15 4H members when they gathered at the Rec. Centre for the junior public speaking finals. The mistress of ceremony was Diane Royan. Timekeeper was Debbie Royan and the teller was Mrs. Gaetane Champagne.

Our capable judges were: Lois Burns, from the Double Diamond Multi Club, Cynthia McLaughlin from the 3-Star Multi and Mrs. Vera Brown from the Echo Hill Multi Club. Each judge was presented with a small token of appreciation for a job well done. Cynthia McLaughlin gave helpful comments to the members of how they may improve their public speaking in the future. This was followed by a delicious lunch served by the lunch committee.

The winner, who will be representing our club at the District Finals on March 18 at 7:30 p.m. at Namao is Craig Ozipko and he spoke on "Wintertime." If it should happen that Craig is unable to go, Angela Frose will be taking his place and will speak on "Sheep."

Speakers were then presented with the Provincial 4H Crests. We would like to thank everyone who came out to see what 4H is doing and hope to see as many at our senior finals on February 21.

Our club was very sad to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Doug Veitch are leaving us. We will greatly miss Sharon as the craft members really enjoyed learning various crafts in Unit 1 and 2. The leaders will also miss her as she never refused any of the tasks assigned to her. Therefore after the public speaking, Sharon was made an honorary member of our 4H Club and was presented with a 4H Provincial Crest, which we know she will wear proudly and will also promote 4H wherever she goes.

At the same time Daryl and Jim Veitch and Leon Prefontaine were presented with 4H membership certificates marked with a gold seal for being sincere members in their first year of 4H. They did especially well in their first year of public speaking.

Good luck to the boys and Mr. and Mrs. Veitch in their new home from all of us in the Legal 4C's 4H Club.

A 4H business meeting will be held on Monday, February 28 at 7:30 p.m., at the Rec. Centre to discuss some very important business. All members and leaders are urged to attend this meeting so please do not forget as it is very important that you be there.

Legal Seniors advance to semi finals

By Denis Nault

On Friday, February 25, Legal defeated Namao 5-3 to advance into semi-finals against Morinville Motors. Quarter-final play against Namao proved to be very exciting. Namao won the first game, and then Legal came to play for the last two games. It was a hard hitting contest but the rule of thumb "Speed is of the essence" pertained in this series as Legal outskated the Namao hitters.

Legal now advances into semi-final playoffs; the Morinville team is very impressive and that can be seen by the points scored, and their standings. This "Best of 5" series should prove to be some of the best hockey around this area. The first game was played Tuesday night and you now know the results. Whether Legal lost or won, there is a possibility of four more games.

The second game is in Morinville Friday, March 4, with the following games being played in Legal on Sunday at 2 p.m. and Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

Winner of this series advances into the finals against the winners of the Gibbons and Bon Accord series.

Annual garden party an event for Gibbons

By Margarette J. Atkinson

A great event, used to take place on a farm, which was located one mile southeast of the Town of Gibbons annually.

This event was a typically English style Fete, or Garden Party. The affair was planned by the family of Ralph Goddard, who were from England.

Ladies of the community assisted by baking cakes, pies and cookies, to be served. Tables were placed at the west end of the large beautifully trimmed lawn of the Goddard's farm home. Tall poplar, birch, and aspen shaded this west-end area.

There was a coal and wood cook stove set up at the northwest corner, here huge enamelled pots of coffee were kept boiling. Tea pots were set on a long wooden table. On another long table, which was covered with a lovely white linen tablecloth were the huge stacks of dainty sandwiches, iced tea, cakes, cookies. On the end of this table were also dainty pitchers filled with sweet farm cream and bowls of sugar.

Tables were daintily covered with various lovely tablecloths, which ladies of the district, who were helping, brought along.

As the people arrived, they were invited to sit down at a table to be served tea or coffee as they wished, the children having tea, milk or hot cocoa.

The Goddards' had a lovely tennis court on their farm. This was located southeast from the lawn area.

An "Aunt Sally" was set up, complete with a long skirt, apron and sun hat. In its mouth was a clay pipe, to be ready for a "ringer," as people tried their hand at throwing the wooden embroidery hoops at it, to try to win a prize. A fish pond also graced the entertainment area. Where you cast, with a rod, onto which a string was attached, with a small hook on the end. As you cast you might catch a parcel, which would contain a very small toy of some sort.

DANCE HELD

Afternoon would wear on, shadows of the trees becoming longer, until finally the sun would sink into the western sky. Then strings of Japanese Lanterns were strung from the front of the Goddards' home, to the trees at the west end of the lawn. There was a sort of terrace in front of the Goddards' house, where an orchestra would start tuning up, for a lawn dance which would start at the onset of darkness.

Soon, the Japanese lanters with their delicately painted shades would send a "rainbow" hue of color, over the crowd of people dancing on the beautiful lawn. Tea and coffee were served until at last, tired, but very happy people left for home.

That Garden Party or Fete filled the souls of young and old alike, with a gentle wonderment. Wonderful times were enjoyed by Gibbons residents, in those very early years.

Gibbons was once a rodeo town

By Margarette J. Atkinson

Not many people know that Gibbons was a "Stampede" town, like the large centres of Edmonton and Calgary. In the early 1930's, stampedes began to take place, at the very far, north-end of the "sports grounds," which were located north of the present day sports grounds. Corrals, were built of poplar poles and shutes and seating were installed.

The Chinaman's Cafe, hired every girl available, to wait on the crowds of people who would be coming to eat at the only eating place at Gibbons.

The local lads of course were very good riders because the only means of transport they had, from the time they could walk, was horse-back. They had to "break" their own horses too.

Many cowboys arrived at Gibbons from far away places wearing "10 gallon" hats carrying lariats.

The bucking broncos were pretty wild. Once or twice a scrawny looking horse went out of the shutes with a wild drive, to end up standing there gazing around, wild eyed and lathered up.

Our Gibbons lads rode really well and they knew their animals. One fellow always wore a big black 10 gallon hat, winter and summer. It had been rained on, snowed on, sat on and slapped around, its brim hung down all around his face, like a skirt. Underneath that brim stuck a long cigar. That's all you could see - a puckered out mouth and a big cigar. All those lads wore "chaps" as an every day apparrel.

During the time the riding or calf roping took place, the Chinaman's Cafe was a real beehive of activity. Local and farm daughters, dressed in their pretty print frocks, trimmed with organdy, wearing pretty starched aprons, were preparing for the on-rush of hungry people.

SOMETIMES ROWDY

The beer parlours in those days were places only men went into. So it was quite a shock, one stampede day evening, to see two "so called," ladies rolling around in a "knock down" drag out

Gibbons Guides, Brownies celebrate Thinking Day

Sunday, February 27 climaxed the end of an eventful week for the Girl Guides and Brownies and their leaders. It was the day of the Thinking Day Service to celebrate the birthday of their founder, Lady Baden Powell. They were joined in this service by Scouts and Cubs from Gibbons, who celebrate the birthday of their founder, at the same time.

The service this year was held at Coronado United Church, and was taken by members from each of the four organizations.

The Rev. S. Vincent was in attendance, and spoke to everyone on "saying thank you," which was the theme for the organizations for the week.

Light refreshments were served after the service, and brought to an end a very busy week, for youth leaders in Gibbons.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER NIGHT

On Wednesday, February 23, one of the highlights of the Girl Guide, Brownie year came about, the night of the mother and daughter banquet. Approximately 140 people were present including guests from area and division. One of the guests was Mrs. Evelyn Fraser who started guiding in Gibbons 25 years ago this year. Mrs. Fraser presented four girls with their All Round Cords. The girls presented with the cords were Colleen McClean, Heather Hood, Lori Briggs and Jo-Anne Christie. The next step for these girls is the Canada Cord, the highest award in guiding.

After the dinner, the Guides and Brownies provided entertainment for the parents and guests.

A good time was had by all, and a vote of thanks is extended to the parents association for the food, and the fathers of the girls, who served and washed dishes afterwards.

Special "thank you" to Mr. Bob Russell of the Lucky Dollar Foods for the donations of two turkeys which were scrumpdillyishous.

Record attendance at Namao's winter carnival

Namao 1977 Carnival Queen Candidates, left to right: Margaret Forest, Carol Breckenridge, Sandy Gyepesi.

By Keith Reed
Rink Committee Chairman

Once again the Namao School and Community League winter carnival held Saturday, February 19 proved to be a very successful event. Ticket sales reached an all time record, nearly double last year's total.

Because of weather conditions and lack of a clubhouse the skating party and ski-doo gymkhana were cancelled. However, a number of children and adults enjoyed the sleigh rides provided by Mr. Gene Johner and the St. Bernard Club.

The highlight of the day was the family dance held in the school gym. A capacity crowd of parents, children and high school students enjoyed the music of Herb Puff and his "Sundowners."

Climaxing the evening was the crowning of the 1977 Queen. The three candidates were Carol Breckenridge, Sandy Gyepesi, and Margaret Forest. Margaret Forest, sponsored by theGymkhana Club was crowned as 1977 Carnival Queen by Kim Horricks, reigning queen for 1976.

The winner of the lucky draw for the microwave oven was Lisa Nelsen, daughter of Ron and Diane.

I would like to thank T & D Storage, Jorgensen Electric, Johnny's Store, Mullen Pump Service, Awards Unlimited, Master Feeds, Continental Upholstery, Rose Country Breeders Service Ltd., Safeway, Sturgeon Gardens, Carruthers Implements and Crozier Transport for their donation of door prizes for the evening. Thanks also to the Rose House who donated flowers for the girls; Kodiak Electric who presented the candidates with gifts; and Gwen Koch, Avon representative, who donated a gift for each of the managers.

1977 CARNIVAL QUEEN

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Letts and his staff for their co-operation, Mr. Heisler for his help in organizing the carnival and the three managers - Kim Crozier, Cory Stanton and Linda Andruchow. A special thanks to the three candidates, their parents and all others who helped make this another tremendous success.

Ada Beals, Bon Accord Pioneer passes away

Ada Estelle Beals, one of early Bon Accord settlers, passed away February 25, 1977 at the age of 88 years. Born in 1888 in Guelph, Ontario, she and her family came to Edmonton in 1911. Her father, Frank Chubb has passed away and her eldest brother, Earl, had come west in 1900. He worked for nearly two years then sent for the rest of the family.

While in Edmonton she met and married Ray Beals in a double ceremony with her brother Earl and Hilda von Gruenigen on November 18, 1914, in First Baptist Church. Ray Beals had come to the Edmonton district with his family in 1891 from Rockland, Massachusetts and when Stella met him was in the implement business. In April, 1915, Ray, Stella, Earl and Hilda homesteaded to Bon Accord. In 1919 they moved to the present "Beals homestead," where Mrs. Beals continued to live until her death. For the last quarter century she lived with her daughter, Verna and son-in-law Robert Morris.

Ray and Stella had two daughters, Verna Estelle born in March, 1915 and Ruby Irene in November, 1918. I guess Gramma must have thought life on the farm was the end of everything -- no trolley cars, no "modern" conveniences, no stores, no neighbours and a young family to raise. But she coped well and 62 years later was still "homesteading" in Bon Accord.

Her husband passed away in 1950 and her three brothers also pre-deceased her, but "Mrs. Beals" became a common sight at district ball games and hockey matches. She was crippled by arthritis from an early age and so watched all her "favorite sports" from the confines of a car. She tooted the horn, using her cane, when Bon Accord scored a goal or made a run, kept her own score card, picked her own three stars and had a great time. All the surrounding towns where ball tournaments were held always found a place for Mrs. Beals behind the back-stop.

In her latter years, as her arthritis worsened, she didn't attend events so regularly but that didn't flag her interest and either her daughters or her grandchildren usually stopped by to give her the highlights of the day's happenings.

Stella Beals was very active in the Bon Accord United Church for a number of years, singing in the choir and participating in the United Church Women's group.

Mrs. Beal's funeral was held at the Bon Accord United Church on February 28, 1977 with burial in the Bon Accord Cemetery.

She was a grand lady and with her passing, her generation of the Chubb family is gone. She was a pioneer in the true sense and she will be missed.

This account was written by Barbara Collier, Mrs. Beals' grand-daughter. On behalf of the community of Bon Accord, I would like to express our deepest sympathy to her family on the loss of a dear and remarkable lady. Her presence and wisdom will certainly be missed.

fight. It had rained previously and we only had dirt roads, and main street in Gibbons was no exception.

The two ladies clawed at each other and some of the young kids were so horror struck, myself included, tha we threw water onto the trying to stop them.

Dad, simply walked up, grabbed each lady and stuck their faces right into a mud puddle. They disappeared, from there fast, never to be seen again.

The Gibbons lads would get a bit over energetic, on a Saturday night. They came riding pell mel into Gibbons on horseback, and had a few glasses at the hotel, ending up having some fist fights, out between the hotel and Yet You's General Store.

Some older fatherly type would sometimes just bump their heads together and leave them to rest awhile on the grass. Later the lads would go home, friends once again.

Most of those Gibbons lads of the early 1930's are dead now, many in World War 11. Stampedes at Gibbons ended, before those brave lives ended.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank all individuals who helped to support me in the recent village by-election. Also thank you to all those who voted.

GEORGE GRAINGER.
